

Newfoundland and Labrador - Unique Selling Points

It's as if the world itself forgot about this place. Not that it matters. Eventually, it becomes the only world you ever want to know. And these days, it's easier to find yourself here — only 3 hours from New York or Toronto, 5 hours from London, and exactly where you want to be.

- COASTLINE. Get a great ocean view from 29,000 kilometres (18,000 miles) of coastline. Perfect for coastal drives. Stop in historic towns and fishing villages nestled around fjords, inlets, coves, gulfs, bays, and tickles along the way.
- GEOGRAPHIC SIZE. Newfoundland and Labrador is 405,720 square kilometres (156,649 square miles), about the same geographic size as Japan, and more than 3 times the size of the Maritime provinces.
- LABRADOR. One of the world's last great frontiers and home to ancient cultures. 'The Big Land' has more than 300,000 square kilometres (115,830 square miles) of pristine wilderness, including Torngat Mountains National Park, and the oldest known burial mound in North America.
- ICEBERGS. Find plenty of fresh sea air along Iceberg Alley, where a sparkling spring parade of towering bergs unfolds every year, in a beautiful clutter of pristine white and azure blue.
- WORLD'S LARGEST CONCENTRATION OF HUMPBACK WHALES. When 10,000-year-old icebergs drift south while humpback whales migrate north, they're bound to cross paths. Meet 29 varieties of marine mammals. You'll find more species, more often, in more places around here than anywhere else in North America.
- SEABIRD CAPITAL. We're home to some of the world's largest and most accessible seabird colonies in North America. More than 35 million seabirds gather here every year. See northern gannets, kittiwakes, murrelets, Atlantic puffins, osprey, falcons, hawks, storm petrels, razorbills, and bald eagles at 6 ecological reserves, including the magnificent Cape St. Mary's Ecological Reserve.
- PUFFINS. Visit North America's largest Atlantic puffin sanctuary at the Witless Bay Ecological Reserve.
- MOST ACCESSIBLE WILDLIFE IN NORTH AMERICA. The most concentrated moose population on the planet, one of the largest barren-ground caribou herds in the world, and an abundance of black bear, some topping the scales at 600 pounds.
- UNESCO WORLD HERITAGE SITES. Visit Gros Morne National Park, a natural wonder 20 times older than the Rockies. Then head north to the L'Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site, the only authenticated Viking settlement in North America. Afterwards, you can hop on the Labrador ferry to Red Bay and visit our newest World Heritage Site, and spend the day walking through the remnants of a sixteenth century Basques whaling station. Why not take in all three sites on the same trip?
- HISTORY. Immerse yourself in history at 10 National Historic Sites, 9 Provincial Historic Sites, 3 Provincial Museums, and more than 150 community museums.
- MOST EASTERLY POINT IN NORTH AMERICA. Cape Spear National Historic Site is where you can see the sun rise before anyone else and be the first on the continent to ring in the New Year.

- EARTH'S GEOLOGICAL SHOWCASE. The Johnson Geo Centre tells the intriguing life story of our planet and people, and Gros Morne National Park unravels the mystery of the earth's tectonic upheaval.
- ARCHAEOLOGICAL SITES. Go back 9,000 years to the Maritime Archaic people, and the more recent Palaeo-Eskimos and Beothuk.
- FOSSILS. Ecological reserves preserve exceptionally rare natural phenomena. View cliffs representing the geological boundary between the Precambrian Era and Cambrian Period. Here you'll find the oldest complex life forms on earth and the first appearance of skeletal organisms — some 565 million years old.
- BOTANICAL GARDENS. Our 6 botanical reserves protect a rich and rare variety of arctic and alpine plants. North America's most eastern botanical garden at Memorial University showcases 110 acres of specialized species, a premier rock garden, and a nature reserve.
- OUTDOOR ODYSSEY. Hike along ancient footpaths to deep fjords, towering cliffs and sub-arctic barrens, through lush inland forests, and over the earth's mantle. These diverse trails and the fresh sea air will rejuvenate mind, body, and spirit.
