As Premier of Newfoundland and Labrador, I have had the pleasure of travelling to every corner of this great province, and I can attest that it is one of the most incredible vacation destinations in the world.

This likely does not come as news to you, because someone or something has piqued your interest in our province, which is why you are perusing our 2023 Traveller’s Guide.

I think you will quickly come to realize that there is truly something for everyone to explore here. A vacation in Newfoundland and Labrador is hiking our world-class trails, climbing Gros Morne Mountain, or exploring the Torngats. It is enjoying our breathtaking beauty: salty air seasides, rolling mountains, meandering rivers, picturesque towns, and our colourful capital city. It is immersing yourself in a vibrant culture that completely saturates you in song, dance, art, heritage, and history. And one thing is for certain: your heart, and soul will be full from the warm welcome received from our naturally hospitable people.

There is truly nowhere on earth quite like this place.

This year, come visit us and experience Newfoundland and Labrador for yourself. It will be unforgettable.

Sincerely,
Hon. Dr. Andrew Furey

How to Plan Your Trip

This guide will be your information source to help plan your visit and assist you during your stay. There may be times when you truly want to get lost in this land, but to help you find your way, we have divided the guide into five geographic regions (page 9).

Do-it-yourself travel
You’ll find the regions colour-coded for easy identification. Within each of the five regions you’ll find a brief overview and the following sections: Sample Itinerary, Best Kept Secrets, Road Trips, Accommodations, Attractions & Adventures, and Shops & Galleries. A grid-referenced map and index accompanies each region, which allows you to search for things to do or places to go in four different ways: by map coordinate, by category of activity, by driving route, and by community.

Every effort has been made to verify the contents of this guide prior to printing. However, travellers are encouraged to check for additional updates on NewfoundlandLabrador.com and confirm details with individual operators prior to and during travel.

Package tours
Interested in visiting Newfoundland and Labrador but don’t want to worry about the details? Then a package tour is just right for you. Contact one of the tour operators listed on page 430 to start planning your vacation.
Getting from place to place
With over 400,000 square kilometres of land, you never know where you might find yourself. Be sure to check out the distance charts on page 425 to allow for plenty of time to explore. For a more extensive distance guide, go to NewfoundlandLabrador.com/Getting-Here-and-Around/Driving-Distances

Things to know before you go
At the back of the guide, on pages 416-430, you’ll find all the information you’ll need to know on how to get here, as well as language, weather, time zone, and other practical stuff.

There’s much more online
Our official tourism website, NewfoundlandLabrador.com, is your ultimate trip-planning tool, packed with vacation ideas, photos, and an interactive itinerary planner. You’ll also find a searchable database of accommodations, attractions, tours and adventures, shops and galleries, and up-to-date festivals and events.
Driving Tips

Signage
With over 29,000 kilometres of pristine, rugged coastline, there’s plenty of room to find yourself – or lose yourself for that matter. But when you have a specific destination in mind, you need to know how to get there. The province has developed a new signage system to help you find your way. We are phasing in Tourist-Oriented Directional Signage – an internationally-recognized system based on well-known symbols. With this guidance, travellers will be able to arrive at their favourite attractions with ease.

Book your vehicle ahead
Whether you’re here for fresh air, colourful houses, or something more intangible, the last thing you want to be searching for is something to drive. Which is why it’s a good idea to make car rental reservations before you travel. While this place certainly is off the beaten path, lots of people want to get lost and found at the very same time as you. Besides, booking ahead means you get to travel when you want, exactly how you want. And what could be better than that?

Symbols and Codes
Please refer to page 472 for information on symbols and codes. There you’ll find a chart that explains what each symbol means. For example, accommodations listed with this symbol ( [* ] ) warmly welcome both guests and their pets. For other useful trip planning services, keep an eye out for the following symbols.

Tourism Assurance Plan (TAP)
All businesses listed in this guide meet common minimum standards established by the tourism industry. For more information, visit the Hospitality Newfoundland and Labrador website: bit.ly/2LvRx3f
Tourism Business Rates
Rates are set by the operators in response to market conditions. Government does not set rates, but all operators must file their rates with the government. Unless otherwise specified, the rates quoted in this guide do not include taxes and are accurate at the time of printing; the most up-to-date information is available at NewfoundlandLabrador.com.

The Tourism Industry Association of Newfoundland and Labrador is a professional association representing individuals and businesses involved both directly and indirectly in our provincial tourism industry (hnl.ca). Please look for the Hospitality Newfoundland and Labrador designation (👨‍👩‍👧‍👦) next to the members listed throughout this travel guide. They know what good service is — they set the standard.

While travelling, keep an eye out for public wi-fi stickers — these indicate locations where free wireless internet access is available. Access is also offered at many accommodations throughout the province (see listings), at all provincial Visitor Information Centres, and at all Marine Atlantic terminals, including on board the three ferries. Internet access can also be found at all provincial libraries (nlpl.ca) and at the airport terminals in Gander, St. John’s, and Deer Lake. Haven’t been there.
Haven’t done that.
Is it possible to feel lost and found at the same time?

“The traveller sees what he sees. The tourist sees what he has come to see.”
— G.K. Chesterton

Some might argue Mr. Chesterton was just being overly fussy — that this is a distinction without a difference. Those people aren't travellers.

You see, tourists know what they are looking for long before they know what's really here. A knowable, containable, and packageable experience. But these are mere parts of the puzzle. A traveller, on the other hand, seeks the truth of a place, the essence that can only be appreciated by seeing the puzzle as a whole.

Wildlife? Check. History? Of course. Amazing vistas? In spades. And culture? We speak more dialects of English than the English do. This is a place where turquoise and lime green houses make amiable neighbours on steep city streets and in snug little harbours. Where fresh air ripples freely through tiny gardens and sprawling barrens, finding its way to open windows. Bringing with it a renewed sense of possibility as sweet as the air itself.

But these are only elements of what makes this place truly unforgettable. And therein lies the magic of this mysterious land. To find what you are looking for, you must first be willing to let go of expectations, to really lose yourself. And then, there you will be. Lost. And found.
With 35 million seabirds this close, binoculars are optional.

With over 350 species of birds, it’s no surprise that Newfoundland and Labrador is a major birdwatching destination. In fact, this place is known as the Seabird Capital of North America. Wherever you turn, you’ll have plenty of chances to get up close and personal with over 35 million seabirds, including 25,000 gannets, 500,000 puffins, and 7 million storm petrels. So close, you can leave your binoculars at home. Umbrellas, however, may be required.
Best Ways to Watch
During the spring and summer, you’ll discover great birdwatching experiences around every corner. Find must-see bird gathering spots while kayaking, hiking, enjoying a boat tour, or a leisurely drive.

When you think about it, it makes sense that Newfoundland and Labrador is the destination of choice for the world’s largest concentration of humpback whales. After all, this place is home to 29,000 kilometres of dramatic coastline that provide plenty of snacks for our aquatic visitors.

Every summer, from May to August, you can catch 22 different species of whales frolicking in the ocean, breaching the surface and spouting near the shore. The best part? No matter how many you see, each one still seems larger than life.

Every year 10,000 whales get front row seats to go people watching.

How to Watch
You can experience these majestic animals from the rail of a tour boat, the seat of your kayak, or while hiking along a coastal trail.

It’s easy to see the beauty of our planet. The real wonders require you to dig a little deeper.

The story of life on Earth began billions of years ago, and some of the greatest narrators of this tale are the rocks of Newfoundland and Labrador. Our geological marvels aren’t stowed away behind glass or hidden beneath deep layers of rock. Here you can see and even touch some of the most fascinating and rarest phenomena on the planet.

At Mistaken Point Ecological Reserve, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, fossil discoveries shaped our understanding of evolution. Gros Morne offers opportunities to walk atop the Earth’s mantle, tour inland fjords carved by massive glaciers, and marvel at volcanic sea stacks. And the Discovery UNESCO Global Geopark is a time machine that can bring you back a half-a-billion years.

Outdoor adventure, one trail at a time.

With over 200 hiking and walking trails to explore, you can quite literally spend your entire journey on your feet. The East Coast Trail and the International Appalachian Trail headline the 200 hiking and walking trails that lead to stunning views of whales, icebergs, and long stretches of unspoiled nature and wilderness. Not to mention an abundance of breathing room.

When you’re hiking in a place that’s off the beaten path, you never know what you’ll find. It might even be yourself.
Choose Your Adventure

Whether you’re looking for a casual stroll or a challenging trek, you’ll find many trails to choose from. The East Coast Trail offers a wide variety, including an easy path to the abandoned fishing village of La Manche. The moderately difficult, 4.8-km Rockcut Twillingate Lower Little Harbour Trail takes you to a resettled community and a 30-foot natural arch. On the Bonavista Peninsula, the Hike Discovery Trail Network will bring you to sea stacks, towering cliffs, and rugged coastlines. And for an extreme experience, Labrador’s Torngat Mountains National Park boasts 9,700 square kilometres of untouched wilderness and some of the highest mountains in eastern North America.

Major Trail Networks

Here, you’ll find plenty of trails to explore. The International Appalachian Trail extends from Port aux Basques to Crow Head, and the East Coast Trail links 32 historic communities throughout the Avalon.
10,000 years later, they find their way to Iceberg Alley. We don’t suggest you wait that long.

When it comes to icebergs, there’s no better place to catch a glimpse than right here. Oftentimes during spring and summer, thousands of frozen giants drift past our shores in search of inlets, coves, and bays. Carved from 10,000-year-old glaciers, they come in all shapes and sizes. You’ll find them making their way, entirely at their leisure, down an ancient path called Iceberg Alley. Careful never to stay in one place too long, their presence creates an ever-changing landscape. One you won’t want to miss. There’s no shortage of reasons to celebrate, perhaps just a shortage of time.

While this place is always chock-full of reasons to have fun, you’ll find this is especially true during the summer months. It’s a time when everyone comes together to share a laugh, sample fresh local cuisine, and get swept away by lively local music.

There are hundreds of diverse festivals and events that embrace everything from film, dance, and music, to blueberries, squid, and mussel beds. Whatever the reason, there are tons of ways to celebrate the unique culture and heritage of this place while you meet new friends, or get reacquainted with old ones.

For a complete list of festivals and events taking place throughout the province, visit NewfoundlandLabrador.com/FestivalsEvents
Coast-to-Coast Entertainment
When the sun goes down, this place goes up. In Trinity, Gander, Grand Falls-Windsor, Stephenville, and Grand Bank, our thespians tread the boards in productions ranging from comedy and Shakespeare to Broadway and stories that are all our own. In Gros Morne National Park, take in a lively literary festival, plus theatrical performances and music. Corner Brook also offers a range of music and theatre. Twillingate is always rollicking with dinner theatre, as is Ferryland, where there’s a wee bit of Irish wit and devilment on display. Visit L’Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site and experience the exciting Viking re-enactments. St. John’s has music, dance, film, ghost walks, and yarns. From Bay Roberts to Clarenville to Happy Valley-Goose Bay, keep an eye and an ear out for local talent and a good time.

Best Excuses to Celebrate
1. Gros Morne Theatre Festival (May 30–Sep 30, Cow Head)
2. Herring Neck Dory Festival (Jul 20–23, Herring Neck)
3. Bonavista Biennale (Aug 1–Sep 30, multiple locations)
4. Sullivan’s Songhouse (Jun 3–Oct 28, Calvert)
5. Mary’s Harbour Crab Festival (Aug 4–6, Mary’s Harbour)
You’d be a great storyteller too, if you had thousands of years of practice.

Out here, you’ll find history around every corner. In fact, there isn’t a rock, cliff, or cave without a story attached. Take the Vikings, for example, our first European settlers. They landed at L’Anse aux Meadows a thousand years ago. And then there’s John Cabot. He dropped anchor in Bonavista back in 1497 and declared it the New World.

Tales of our past visitors are all around, and some of the best places to discover them are the 9 national historic sites, 13 provincial historic sites, 4 UNESCO world heritage sites, and 150 community museums you’ll find here. Chances are, you’ll uncover a few stories of your own along the way.
Seven Places to Forget About Modern Life

1. Battle Harbour National Historic Site (p. 409)
2. Red Bay National Historic Site (p. 408)
3. L’Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site (p. 120)
4. The Commissariat Provincial Historic Site (p. 349)
5. Beothuk Interpretation Centre Provincial Historic Site (p. 201)
6. Mockbeggar Plantation Provincial Historic Site (p. 272)
7. Mistaken Point Ecological Reserve (p. 359)
Let someone else worry about the details.

Making your own way is sometimes exactly what’s called for, especially if you’re interested in finding – or losing – yourself along the way. But if you’d rather travel here without having to worry about the details, there are many package tours to bring you to Newfoundland and Labrador.

If you’re looking for a group motorcoach tour, an all-inclusive fly-drive holiday, or a cruise vacation, you’ll find something to suit your interests. The best thing to do is call a Newfoundland and Labrador tour operator. Many of their packages can be tailored for you, whether it’s watching whales chase icebergs from your kayak, biking the Irish Loop, walking or hiking the coastal trails, or just relaxing in a spa by the sea. See page 430 for more information on these tour operators.

DAY 1 – Explore Humber Valley
Try ziplining in Steady Brook, which isn’t too far from Deer Lake Airport. Then explore the fascinating caves near Corner Brook. Finish off the day with a delicious lobster dinner.

DAY 2 – A Day in Gros Morne National Park
Take a 45-minute stroll, then a boat tour through a breathtaking fjord with huge cliffs and cascading waterfalls. Check out the sand dunes and experience live theatre at Cow Head.

DAY 3 – Centuries of Human History
Explore the crossroads at Port au Choix National Historic Site, occupied by Indigenous peoples 6,000 years before Europeans arrived. Walk one of the nearby hiking trails.

DAY 4 – Voyage to Southern Labrador
Catch the ferry to Labrador and watch for sooty shearwater birds on the way. Climb Atlantic Canada’s tallest lighthouse, then visit Red Bay where the Basques hunted whales centuries ago.

DAY 5 – Back in Time on the Viking Trail
Visit the famous Viking site at L’Anse aux Meadows, and then head out to Norstead, a re-creation of an 11th-century Viking port. Stay at one of the unique B&Bs in the area.

12 Days of Adventure, Coast to Coast.
Find more itineraries, or create your own, at NewfoundlandLabrador.com/tripplanner
DAY 6 – Picnic at Arches Provincial Park
Stop at the Arches on your return south, and marvel at the rock formations that were once underwater. Learn about the lives of the Mudge Family and of inshore fishermen at Broom Point.

DAY 7 – Adventures in Exploits Valley
Go river rafting on the Exploits in the morning and explore the Beothuk cultural displays in Boyd’s Cove. After, learn how to split a codfish in Twillingate.

DAY 8 – Icebergs of Twillingate
Take a boat tour and discover that icebergs are not only white, but green, blue, and grey. Cool your drinks with a chunk of iceberg ice, and keep an eye out for frolicking whales swimming by.

DAY 9 – Explore Terra Nova National Park
Try sea kayaking and keep a lookout for swooping bald eagles diving for fish. Next, take a short hike along the scenic coastline.

DAY 10 – Walk the Discovery Trail
Enjoy a hike along the Skerwink Trail and check out the sea stack formations. The pretty and historic town of Trinity is home to Rising Tide Theatre, as well as lots of great places to stay.

DAY 11 – Discover the Baccalieu Coastal Drive
Look for the faeries that are rumoured to inhabit Canada’s first English settlement at Cupids. Stop by the Boat Building Museum in Winterton before learning about the first transatlantic telegraph cable in Heart’s Content.

DAY 12 – Excitement in St. John’s
Go on a whale-watching cruise in Bay Bulls, then spend the night in St. John’s and enjoy the city’s nightlife. This place really goes up when the sun goes down.
Once you read these stories, you’ll want to get started on your own chapter.

Hole no.10 at Humber Valley Resort
With ancient mountains, fjords, and thousands of miles of coastline, this wild and rugged region sports abundant breathing room and diverse natural heritage, not to mention a pair of UNESCO World Heritage Sites. The first, spanning 1,805 square kilometres, is Gros Morne National Park. It boasts more than 100 kilometres of hiking trails, many passing through the towering Long Range Mountains and the unique Tablelands. The other, L’Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site, the first European settlement of the New World, features a reconstructed Viking village that offers a glimpse into the life of Nordic visitors a thousand years ago.

For a truly out-of-this-world experience, the International Appalachian Trail is a can’t-miss. The trail stretches from Mount Katahdin, Maine, through eastern Canada and across western Newfoundland and Labrador before extending into Europe.

Western Newfoundland also boasts conservation areas like the Codroy Valley International Wetlands, where you can watch wildlife like moose, caribou, and migratory birds. While this region may seem larger than life, there are plenty of ways to take it all in. Spend a day hiking or kayaking around the coast. Looking to relax? Kick back on one of the many secluded sandy beaches.
Western is full of stunning terrain and fascinating history with two UNESCO World Heritage Sites. Stand where the Vikings stood over 1,000 years ago, or explore the geological masterpiece that is Gros Morne National Park. Learn about the exciting career of Captain James Cook, and then drive along the French Shore for a deliciously musical experience. Then, feel free as a bird as you stare up at feathered friends on the southwest coast.

FESTIVALS, FOOTPATHS, AND FJORDS

DAY 1

Start your western journey at the natural wonder that is Gros Morne National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Pop into the Discovery Centre in Woody Point and get a brief introduction to this earthly marvel. Then it’s time to lace up your shoes for some unforgettable hiking.

Choose from over 100 kilometres of trails for hikers and walkers of all abilities and interests. Hike along the moonscape called the Tablelands—gigantic peridotite rocks that were once part of the Earth’s mantle. Or choose Green Gardens, a more challenging trek through a boreal forest leading to a fertile volcanic seacoast.

Now it’s back to Woody Point, a charming village with a Registered Heritage District full of quaint galleries, craft boutiques, and restaurants with mouthwatering local cuisine. Before calling it a night, be sure to check out some of the evening entertainment for a toe-tapping time.
DAY 2
When you take the boat tour into Western Brook Pond and float through the majestic glacier-carved fjord, you’ll feel like you’ve entered another world. A 2,000-foot-high waterfall cascades down the Long Range Mountains – part of the Appalachian chain. The boat launch is a 45-minute walk down a picturesque nature trail filled with plant life and curious creatures.

Next, visit Mattie Mitchell National Historic Site and Trail commemorating the Mi’kmaw people of Newfoundland. Mitchell was a Mi’kmaw guide, trapper and prospector, and a person of national historical significance. Feeling peckish? Check out the local cafés for a tasty bite.

DAY 3
Jump back in time at Lobster Cove Head Lighthouse and get a glimpse into days gone by. In the evening, visit Cow Head and enjoy stories, plays, and concerts featuring local talent at the Gros Morne Theatre Festival.

THE ARCHES AND THE ANCIENT

DAY 4
Start your day by visiting Arches Provincial Park, just a short drive from Cow Head. Named for the rock arches carved by years of tidal sea activity, it’s the perfect place to relax and have a picnic as you watch the ebb and flow of ocean waves.

The last stop of the day is Port au Choix National Historic Site. Witness relics of Maritime Archaic, Dorset and Groswater People, and Recent Amerindian cultures as they learned to live and thrive in this rugged place many years ago. After exploring the exhibits, take a walk along the coastal trails and scan the waves for seals and whales.
Then, drop by Bird Cove for more archaeological artifacts at the 50 Centuries Interpretation Centre, which chronicles 5,000 years of human habitation in the area, and enjoy the nearby walking trails.

DAY 5

Today it’s all about the Vikings. Just over 1,000 years ago, the first European settlement was built in North America, a place now called L’Anse aux Meadows—both a National Historic Site and a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Reconstructed sod huts “inhabited” by costumed interpreters help bring this historical place back to life. Next, drive to Conche on the east side of the peninsula where the French Shore Interpretation Centre houses an incredible 222-foot tapestry depicting the history of the area.

A ROAD TRIP SOUTH

DAY 7

About a half an hour south of Deer Lake, the city of Corner Brook overlooks the scenic inner Bay of Islands. Take the day to road trip along the north and south shores looking for adventures—of which there are many. Try traditional dory fishing or salmon fishing, ATVing, kayaking or SUP, or take a hike on one of the many walking and hiking trails. In the evening, eat a home-cooked meal while taking in local entertainment.

DAY 6

Hop on a tour boat in St. Anthony and start your day by watching frolicking whales and majestic 10,000-year-old icebergs. Gaze on as these larger-than-life spectacles put on a show. When you’re back on dry land, be sure to drop by the Grenfell Historic Properties and discover how Dr. Grenfell brought modern medical care to remote coastal communities more than a century ago.

DAY 8

Almost an hour south of Corner Brook is the Port au Port Peninsula. It’s here, in southwestern Newfoundland, that many French-speaking Newfoundlanders call home. Explore the unique culture of the region and be sure to try a slice of traditional French baked bread slathered in local jam. In the evening, catch a show at the Stephenville Theatre Festival—a treat for all performance enthusiasts.
DAY 9
Venture south for a ride along Routes 404 or 405, where expansive meadows, scattered with trails, border the edges of the coast—perfect for walking, biking, or riding an ATV. Next stop is the gorgeous farmland of the Codroy Valley, where the surrounding wetlands are internationally recognized as an integral spot for migrating birds. Then it’s on to Port aux Basques where the mountains meet the sea, and then to Rose Blanche where a magnificent granite lighthouse stands guard. Built in 1871 from a nearby quarry, this historic site is a must-see for all lighthouse lovers.

SCENIC SIDE TRIP
If you have a few extra days, visit Newfoundland’s south coast and take a trip to Burgeo. Start out on Route 480 and travel through the pristine boreal forest. Then turn south where the land is otherworldly in appearance, swimming with glacial erratics and shallow ponds. After two hours on this breathtaking drive, you’ll arrive in a small seaside town bordered by Sandbanks Provincial Park. Walk along the four sandy beaches and take in the fresh sea air while the mist from the ocean delicately sprinkles your face. Then, take a short ferry ride to Ramea Island for a truly authentic outport experience. Don’t be surprised if you leave with a few new stories, and a few more friends.

Amazing memories await along the Viking Trail.

The drive north of Gros Morne National Park is flanked by ancient mountains and coastal landscapes. Throughout the millennia, Indigenous peoples thrived here on the sea’s bounty, and historic fishing communities are an ode to the more recent past.

Experience the friendliness of our people – have a chat or hear a local tale at the community wharf or at one of the many festivals in the region. Over a cup of tea and fresh homemade bread, hear stories of resettlement and resiliency at the French Bread Oven in Port au Choix.

Immerse yourself in the beauty and adventure of nature. Breaching humpbacks, playful dolphins, and herds of caribou call this region home. Rare and endemic plants populate fragile limestone barrens. Venture along walking and hiking trails or take a boat tour to meet a 10,000-year-old iceberg from Greenland in Iceberg Alley. Book now at vikingtrail.org.

A UNESCO trilogy –
three world heritage sites.

The UNESCO World Heritage Designation is given to places of outstanding natural and cultural significance. Of the 20 sites in Canada, discover 3 in western Newfoundland and southern Labrador within a few hours’ drive of one another.

In western Newfoundland discover the spectacular landscapes and geological wonders of Gros Morne National Park where you can walk upon the Earth’s mantle and tour glacier-carved fjords. Four hours north, at the only authentic Viking site in North America, hear sagas and see original artifacts at L’Anse aux Meadows National Historic Site.

A short ferry ride across the Strait of Belle Isle and a coastal drive bring you to Red Bay National Historic Site in southern Labrador. Artifacts tell the story of the Basque people who produced the whale oil that lit the lamps of renaissance Europe – the first industrial operation in North America.

This road trip itinerary visits all three sites with stops along the way: https://itineraryplanner.newfoundlandlabrador.com/itinerary/unescotrilogy

Western road trips

Granite Coast Drive
Travel the rugged coast, laden with history and lore, from Basque whalers to present day, about 45 km.

South Coast Adventure
Tiny isolated villages, some without streets, where time is caught in the past.

Codroy Valley International Wetlands
By car or by foot, one of the best birdwatching trails anywhere, about 46 km.

Three Rivers/Sandy Point Lookout
Great salmon fishing and an incredible view of St. George’s Bay, about 129 km.

Caribou Trail
Your pathway to the interior, and to the dunes of Sandbanks Provincial Park at Burgeo, about 150 km.

French Ancestors Route / La route des ancêtres français
Where the province’s French heritage still lives, in name and in spirit, about 240 km.

Captain Cook’s Trail
See where one of the world’s best known explorers learned his trade, about 54 km.

Admiral Palliser’s Trail
Scenery and history combined in this drive along the north shore of Humber Arm, about 40 km.

Humber Valley
Salmon fishing in summer; skiing in winter. It’s an adventurer’s paradise, about 57 km.

Viking Trail
Follow the footsteps of the Vikings, and marvel at the wonder of Gros Morne National Park, about 687 km.

Grenfell Drive
Named for the famed medical missionary, this route follows the coastline of the old French Shore, about 268 km.

Main River Run
A Canadian Heritage River that will challenge even the most experienced paddler, about 95 km.
Granite Coast Drive
Start: Channel-Port aux Basques
Length: About 45 km. Add 90 minutes for ferry option to La Poile.

Hop off the ferry in Channel-Port aux Basques and visit the Railway Heritage Museum and view two rare 17th-century navigational devices called astrolabes, recovered from nearby shipwrecks by a local diver. The Basque fishermen who arrived in the 1500s were followed by the French, hence the town’s French name.

Further along on Route 470 is the historic community of Isle aux Morts. If you’re a dog lover, visit the Hairyman’s Safe Haven Café & Craft Shop to learn about Hairyman, the local Newfoundland dog who rescued 163 shipwreck survivors in 1828.

Less than an hour east is Rose Blanche. The restored 19th-century granite lighthouse overlooks the resting places of an untold number of shipwrecks. A gentle looped walking trail offers spectacular views, so pack a picnic and enjoy your surroundings.

Leave your car behind and take a 90-minute ferry ride to the remote village of La Poile for a taste of the past. Local tours guided by fishing families will also take you to abandoned communities to explore the old way of life. Pair this with some fishing for a full day out on the water.

South Coast Adventure
Start: Burgeo
Length: Up to 3 hours for ferry crossings.

Sandbanks Provincial Park in Burgeo offers kilometres of sandy beaches and walking trails. From Burgeo, you can travel via ferry to remote communities along the south coast.

The ferry to the island of Ramea operates several times a week. Take a stroll along one of the walking trails and check out the community’s wind turbines.

From Burgeo you can also take the passenger-only ferry to the community of Francois. The ferry ride itself is a picturesque full-day journey, and it’s not uncommon to see dolphins swimming alongside the bow of the boat or sunfish basking on the water’s surface. Francois is home to multiple fishing and climbing opportunities, as well as several hiking trails offering spectacular views of the fjord.

This remote pocket of the island provides a peaceful respite from the outside world, and the wildlife knows this too — birdwatching and wildlife viewing opportunities are abundant.
Codroy Valley International Wetlands
Start: St. Andrew’s
Length: About 46 km

A 15-minute drive north of Channel-Port aux Basques you’ll find Grand Bay West and J.T. Cheeseman Provincial Park – nesting sites of the endangered piping plover. Please pay close attention to the exclusion signs that mark their territory.

Southwest Newfoundland is an excellent birding location. Not only is it on the flyway of many migrating species, but the area’s beaches, marshes, and estuaries – such as the Codroy Valley International Wetlands – provide excellent refuge and food.

This area has some of the island’s best farmland, settled generations ago by Scots who brought with them place names like St. Andrew’s, and further north off Routes 404 and 405, Highlands and Lochleven. Cape Anguille is worth a visit while you’re in the area for some of the best sunsets on the island.

The mountains just north of the Codroy Valley and west of Route 1 are famed for their winds. When the trains passed through here, the railway employed Lauchie McDougall to warn of high winds from Table Mountain. Those 160 km-per-hour gusts could blow a train from the narrow gauge tracks. Today, both Lauchie and the railway are gone, and truckers rely on cellphones to find out when the wind is up.

There are several world-class hiking trails here, including the moderate 5.1 km Starlite Trail to the top of the Long Range Mountains. The trailhead is on Route 1 near Route 407. For a coastal trail with a mountainous backdrop, the moderate 5.5-km Coastangs Trail has trailheads in both Searston and St. Andrew’s.

Three Rivers / Sandy Point Lookout
Start: Codroy Pond
Length: About 129 km

Off the main highway and onto Routes 404 and 405 you’ll find some great salmon fishing in streams like the Crabbes and Robinsons rivers. The sandy trails that edge coastal meadows in the quiet communities provide fine lookouts over Bay St. George South. Join an ATV tour and explore backcountry trails while learning about the area’s pirate history. Legend has it, there’s treasure buried here. Excellent fishing can also be found further north at Flat Bay Brook.

Caribou Trail
Start: Barachois Pond Provincial Park
Length: About 150 km. Optional ferry crossings from 75 minutes to 3 hours.

The largest park in the provincial system, Barachois Pond has excellent outdoor recreation facilities and a large campground. Walk the Erin Mountain Trail, beginning with a boardwalk and leading to a lookout over Barachois Pond. The upper part of the trail climbs 340 metres and offers views over Bay St. George, the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and the Long Range Mountains.

For a change of scenery, leave the coast and drive through the interior along Route 480. The route snakes through thick forests and then heads south across boulder-strewn barrens to Burgeo. Sandbanks Provincial Park boasts four connected beautiful sandy beaches.
The endangered Piping Plover nests here, so please exercise caution and pay attention to signage.

From Burgeo, take the ferry to nearby Ramea. From here, leave your car behind and take a day trip to communities further east like Grey River and Francois, where there are no cars, and roads are replaced by boardwalks.

French Ancestors Route / La route des ancêtres français
Start: Stephenville Crossing
Length: About 240 km

Newfoundland only gained control over the west coast in 1904. Prior to that, it was known as the French Shore, because France had exclusive fishing rights there. Today, many French place names remain, and the Stephenville-Port au Port Peninsula area is still the hub of French Newfoundland culture. Reach it via Route 460 or 490.

Stephenville, once known for its American airbase, is now home to some lively festivals, like the Stephenville Theatre Festival and the Friendly Invasion. Reach back into history along Blanche Brook, where you’ll find Ancient Carboniferous Fossil Trees, a protected site with rare 305-million-year-old tree fossils, thought to represent some of the earliest seed-producing trees.

On the Port au Port Peninsula, drop by the francophone folk festival and hear tunes passed down from generation to generation. For a breath of fresh air, hike Danny’s Trail, starting at the Port au Port isthmus, where it’s believed that Jacques Cartier landed in 1534. This trail has views of the bay and the Long Range Mountains, with interesting rock formations, beaches, and coves.

Learn about the history of the French Shore at one of the many local museums. At the very tip of the peninsula is Park Boutte du Cap, home to the only monument in the province to French Acadians expelled from the area by the British. This park has a traditional bread oven available for public use, with frequent demonstrations and bread tastings.

Captain Cook’s Trail
Start: Corner Brook
Length: About 54 km

Yes, the Captain James Cook. Before he became a famous South Seas explorer, Cook refined his cartographic skills along the coast of Newfoundland in the 1760s. His charts of the Bay of Islands are remarkably still accurate enough to be used today. A statue in his honour overlooks the bay from Corner Brook, the largest city on the west coast.

The scenic drive along the south shore of the Bay of Islands on Route 450 to Lark Harbour is a treat for the eyes. You’ll also find some of the island’s best hiking here. One such route is the popular Blow Me Down Mountain Trail, part of the International Appalachian Trail.

Blow Me Down Provincial Park has even more world-class hiking, including the scenic Lark Harbour Head Trail, where a lookout provides endless views of the Bay of Islands. On your descent, you’ll tackle the Governor’s Staircase – a wooden staircase embedded into a 450-million-year-old wall of volcanic rock.
Admiral Palliser’s Trail
Start: Corner Brook
Length: About 40 km

Sir Hugh Palliser was a governor of Newfoundland in the 18th century and the man who sent Captain Cook to survey the west coast. The highway named after him, Route 440, traces the north shore of the Bay of Islands into an area great for ocean fishing, hiking, and birdwatching.

A tour will give you a more in-depth experience, and plenty of interaction with the locals. Learn how to catch and fillet cod in Cox’s Cove, and pair the experience with a seafood boil-up and a farm-to-table feast. If you’re lucky enough to be here in the winter, try some guided ice fishing or join a snowmobiling tour.

Humber Valley
Start: Corner Brook
Length: About 57 km

Nestled in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, the Humber Valley follows the Humber River from the city of Corner Brook to Deer Lake. The area is particularly striking in the fall, when the tree-fringed slopes turn vermilion, amber, and gold.

At the Historic Train Site, see the collection of narrow gauge rolling stock from the Newfoundland Railway. The Corner Brook Museum and Archives celebrate the history and culture of the region. Take in exhibits by established and emerging artists at the Rotary Arts Centre, and spend some time on West Street, lined with restaurants, cafés, and craft breweries. For unique views, stroll the Corner Brook Stream Trail.

Legend says the Spanish buried a treasure on Shellbird Island in the Humber River. Look closely — there’s an old man’s face in a rock formation which overlooks the island, said to be a marker for the treasure. The 5-km Man in the Mountain Trail leads to its rocky summit.

Marble Mountain in Steady Brook gets an average of 16 feet of snow every winter and is one of the best ski hills in eastern Canada. There’s a lodge and accommodations at the base of the hill. Take a snowmobiling tour on the area’s groomed trails, or try ziplining — yes, even in winter.

Spend a day kayaking or stand-up paddling, or tee off at an award-winning golf course. Take a mountain biking tour or explore the area’s hidden cave system. Connect with a local guide for a day of angling on the Humber River, one of the best Atlantic salmon rivers on the planet.

In Deer Lake, get acquainted with the colourful creatures at the Newfoundland Insectarium, or hit the Walking Trails of Deer Lake — one path will lead you to sandy Deer Lake Beach. In July, check out the Strawberry Festival.

At the Upper Humber Settlement in Cormack, uncover the stories of the farmers and the pioneers who settled here 100 years ago.

Viking Trail
Start: Deer Lake
Length: About 687 km

Follow Route 430 from Deer Lake and get ready for Gros Morne National Park, one of two UNESCO World Heritage Sites you’ll see on this route.
Mere words cannot paint the picture that is Gros Morne. It is one of those rare places that reaches right into your soul.

It was here that geologists discovered that trilobite fossils of the area differed from those in eastern Newfoundland and resembled those found in Spain and North Africa, helping to make the case for plate tectonics. Plus there’s the Tablelands, a mesa-like formation of a rock type usually found deep in the earth. This is one of a handful of places where it’s been pushed to the surface by tectonic forces. Take a hike among these unusual rocks and maybe meet a moose.

Further north is Western Brook Pond, a remarkable misnomer for this gigantic, glacier-carved fjord with cliffs 2,000 feet high. Explore the fjord as part of a boat tour, or take a cruise along the coast to see the mountains from a different vantage point.

There are over 100 km of trails in the park, including iconic treks like Gros Morne Mountain and Green Gardens, plus migrating caribou, Arctic-alpine plants, and other natural wonders. In winter, this place is a wonderland for snowmobilers, skiers, and backcountry enthusiasts – many of whom lead tours. And, unlike most national parks, this one has pockets of civilization: the towns and villages in and around the park provide services and accommodations, and there’s a lively arts community. Annual festivals celebrate theatre, writing, and music, and the region is home to many talented visual artists.

You can reach Port au Choix via Route 430-28 from Port Saunders. The Basques, the French, and the English have fished along these shores for almost five centuries. Part of this story is told at the French Rooms Cultural Centre. Crab and lobster are king along this shore – you’ll see hundreds of pots stacked in many places, and the harbour is busy with fishing boats coming and going.

Over the millennia, cultures have come and gone, but dependence on the sea has been a constant. That was true for the Maritime Archaic and Dorset peoples who lived in the Port au Choix area long before Europeans arrived. A 3-km trail connects the village to the Point Riche Lighthouse, built in 1892. Watch for caribou and whales! Other nearby trails will take you to long stretches of beach, across limestone barrens, and through tuckamore forests.

St. Barbe is a jumping-off point for southern Labrador. A ferry service crosses the Strait of Belle Isle to Blanc Sablon, right on the Labrador-Québec border. See the Labrador section for more information.

On Route 436 you’ll find our second UNESCO World Heritage Site, at L’Anse aux Meadows. It was here Vikings led by Leif Erickson founded the first European settlement in North America a thousand years ago.

L’Anse aux Meadows was a tiny fishing village in 1960, when explorer Helge Ingstad came looking for a place the Vikings called Vinland. Ingstad, his archaeologist wife Anne, and Parks Canada uncovered the remains of several Viking houses, a forge, and other buildings, proving the Vikings were here more than 500 years before any other Europeans arrived on this continent. Nearby Norstead depicts life as it would have existed in a port of trade for a Scandinavian country during this era, including a full-scale replica Viking ship and four period-style buildings.

The tip of the Great Northern Peninsula has Newfoundland’s longest iceberg-watching season, and is a good place to see whales late into the summer. The best way to see both is from one of the tour boats operating in the area. And the Iceberg Festival in June is dedicated to these glacial giants.

Another visitor to St. Anthony had quite a different impact. Dr. Wilfred Grenfell brought modern medicine to northern Newfoundland and the remote communities of coastal Labrador beginning in the 1890s. His work lives on, and his story is told at the Grenfell Historic Properties.

Grenfell Drive
Start: Route 432
Length: About 268 km

The handful of communities on the east coast of the Northern Peninsula were once French summer fishing stations, part of the old French Shore. Take Route 432 south to Roddickton, where an underground salmon pool marks an unusual migration route.

East on Route 434, the French Shore Interpretation Centre in Conche houses the French Shore Tapestry, 222 feet long and embroidered by local women in the style of the Bayeux Tapestry, retelling the history of the area from prehistory to the present.

This area is also a haven for hikers. The Glass Hole Trail in Conche leads to a cavern in the heights of the cliffs that take you to the Atlantic. From here, you’ll find amazing vistas and views of resettled islands in the distance.

Main River Run
Start: Route 420
Length: About 95 km

On the southeastern side of the Great Northern Peninsula in White Bay, one of the highlights is the Main River, a surging 57 km that will test even the most experienced whitewater paddler. The Main River Waterway Provincial Park / Canadian Heritage River offers a full wilderness experience for capable outdoor enthusiasts, including paddling, rafting, angling, backcountry trekking, and snowmobiling.

In Jackson’s Arm, be sure to pay a visit to the Stanley Ford Property and Outbuildings. Tour this group of domestic fishery and farm buildings while learning about traditional arts and crafts – including quilting, knitting, and fabric dyeing – or take part in a culinary demonstration and enjoy some local dishes.

Road Trip Tips

If your trip includes a ferry jaunt, visit www.gov.nl.ca/ti/ferryservices/schedules for routes and rates. Some ferries do permit vehicles, with a set limit for vehicle capacity; other ferries are passengers only (no vehicles accepted) so plan accordingly.

Please check exact directions and road conditions before you start each road trip. Visit www.511nl.ca for current road conditions and ferry updates. Distances are estimates and for guidance only. Routes can be taken as is, or in reverse order.
Drive as far north as you can and that is where the excitement starts. Your chariot to Quirpon Island is a flashy red Zodiac. The ocean was a little rough but we were assured we would make the short trip to the island docking area. And what a trip it was. After loading up the small amount of luggage we were allowed to bring, we donned our rain jackets and ponchos, climbed down the dock ladder, and boarded the oversized inflatable dinghy. Assured it was safe, I took a deep breath and held on.

When we arrived we were escorted to a light-keeper’s home built in 1922 and met by the warmest, friendliest staff. The Quirpon Lighthouse Inn is inviting and comfortable. The meals were absolutely delicious. The staff and the guests seemed so excited to welcome you. It wasn’t long before we were hearing people shout “whale” so off to the whale watching station we went.

Whale Tales

I could have sat in the whale watching station all day. The excitement of spotting a whale circling the island, pods of whales rounding up capelin, whale tails popping through the surface or best of all - the breach of an enormous Humpback. Unbelievable. All while sitting in the comfort of a heated room, relaxing on the rocks on the shoreline, or heading out on a Zodiac tour. There were lots of whale stories floating around the whale station as well.

Icebergs!

Yes we saw those too! Lots and lots of icebergs floating by the island on their slow crawl south. The really fun part was heading out in the Zodiac to see them up close and personal. Close enough to safely scoop up a piece of ice and taste it. Surprisingly it is not salty!

And Then There’s More...

Despite what appears to be a barren island, there is so much to see. Hiking the island is encouraged. We saw plenty of sea birds just off shore and the views were incredible. Nature is all around you if you slow down and take a look. We came for the whales and icebergs but we were overwhelmed by the hospitality and beauty of this remote northern island.

Right in the heart of Newfoundland, the central region contains some of the best outdoor experiences in the province. It’s the centre of Iceberg Alley, a stretch of coastline where ancient towers of ice majestically float down from Greenland. It’s also where whales gather in large numbers to feed, play, and people watch. Central is a perfect place to take a boat trip or go sea and river kayaking. It’s also worth visiting Terra Nova National Park—400 square kilometres of boreal forest and coastline, ideal for whale watching, bird watching, hiking, camping, and stargazing.

The central region also boasts dozens of hiking trails. As you explore, you’ll see clapboard houses sitting atop rocky coasts, and wharves and boats testifying to the continuing importance of the centuries-old fishing industry. Most of the people living here are descendants of West Country fishermen who settled the shores more than two centuries ago. The region also has a rich Indigenous history dating as far back as 6,000 years. It includes the Beothuk as well as the Dorset people, who carved soapstone pots at Newfoundland’s first quarry.
Visit Central, the second-largest region in Newfoundland and Labrador. Stuffed with bays, coves, lively communities, and fascinating histories. With beautiful beaches and some of the best salmon rivers on the planet—there’s no shortage of things to do.

EXPLORE NOTRE DAME

DAY 1

Start your journey at the “Crossroads of the World”, also known as Gander. While you’re here, visit the North Atlantic Aviation Museum and learn how this small town played a big role in post-war passenger aviation. Next, enjoy a drive through lush forests before meeting the roaring Gander River at Gander Bay. Take a moment to breathe in the pristine wilderness before continuing on Routes 331 and 335 to the ferry at Farewell for an excursion to Fogo Island and Change Islands.

Fogo Island is the biggest offshore island in the province and home to 11 distinct and lively communities. With its fascinating geography, roaring seaside, and unique cultural history, a visit to Fogo is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. Explore the four ultramodern international artist studios that attract acclaimed artisans from around the globe. Visit Tilting, an Irish community brimming with antiquity and heritage—more than 250 years old. Walk the ancient footpaths that decorate the island, and keep an eye out for the caribou herd. Be sure to check out Growlers Ice Cream Shop, where local berries become sweet, delicious treats.
DAY 2
In the morning, ride the ferry back to Farewell and hit the road towards Twillingate, heading for Long Point Lighthouse. The lighthouse and Lower Head Trail is a perfect place to keep watch for whales and icebergs. Or, if you want front row seats, hop on a boat tour. In the afternoon, do some exploring and hike one of the many picturesque walking trails in the area. There’s entertainment almost every night in Twillingate, so when the sun goes down put on your dancing shoes for an evening of traditional music. After you’ve exhausted yourself on the dance floor, retire to a cozy B&B for a well-deserved rest.

Today, delight in a scenic road trip along the shores of Notre Dame Bay and the Bay of Exploits. Drop by the Beothuk Interpretation Centre Provincial Historic Site at Boyd’s Cove. Here you’ll explore the fascinating culture of the Beothuk people, extinct since 1829. Now it’s back on the road driving through idyllic coastal communities like Birchy Bay and Loon Bay. Stop in Lewisporte where the By the Bay Museum gives you an in-depth look into the rugged reality of outport life.

Notre Dame Provincial Park, at Notre Dame Junction, is a great place to experience the beauty and tranquility of the boreal forest. You can camp, birdwatch, stargaze, or simply cool off in Junction Pond. The final stop is the World War II seaplane base at Botwood Heritage Park, where Bob Hope, among other celebrities, entertained the troops.

DELVE INTO WATER AND STONE

DAY 1
Grand Falls-Windsor sits on one of the best salmon fishing rivers in the world: the Exploits River. Thousands of these fighters migrate upstream every year to spawn, making this an ideal place for the Salmonid Interpretation Centre. Then it’s westward to Aspen Brook for an epic adrenaline rush with Rafting Newfoundland. Choose from a variety of exhilarating tours, some of which include a swim and a picnic lunch.
DAY 2
Start today’s venture in Springdale, where you’ll find the Springdale Wetlands—reached via the Indian River walking trail. The wetlands are an estuary where Indian River flows into Halls Bay, and feature 15,000 acres of diverse habitat that’s home to moose, ducks, and salmon. The next stop is King’s Point, where the seaside pavilion holds the articulated skeleton of a 52-foot humpback whale, and the pottery shop has some of the finest wares in the province.

DAY 3
The Baie Verte Peninsula is a geologist’s dream. Teeming with ancient rocks and minerals, deep cavernous mines, and complex folding and twisting landscapes, its natural beauty is unsurpassed. For a glimpse into this fascinating world, visit the Miners’ Museum in Baie Verte, and learn about the mysterious and dark lives of miners from the late 1800s to present day. Can’t get enough underground fascinations? Then continue on to the Dorset Soapstone Quarry National Historic Site at Fleur de Lys and witness evidence of Dorset and Palaeo-Eskimo vessel carvings dating back 1,600 years.

THE SOUTH COAST TOUR
DAY 1
The drive from Bishop’s Falls down Route 360 passes through thick boreal forest. St. Alban’s is the centre of the province’s growing aquaculture industry, and on the waterfront there’s an interesting display on Captain James Cook’s 18th-century surveying voyages. The expert canoeist will want to paddle the Bay du Nord Heritage River, a challenge worth its reward in lush scenery. Nearby Conne River is home to the Indigenous Mi’kmaq people. If you’re here in July, check out the Miawpukek Annual Powwow and learn about their rich heritage.

DAY 2
South of St. Alban’s, the Connaigre Peninsula offers some of the most extraordinary landscapes on the island. Deep fjords cleave the land and rolling hills make friends with the small communities tucked between them. As you drive along the highway, the beauty of this terrain will surely transform you.

DAY 3
A short distance off the main highway, Routes 362 and 362–10 lead to Pool’s Cove. Take a day trip to Rencontre East and Bay L’Argent on the Burin Peninsula. See the traditional sights of some classic outport communities—warm, friendly homes that dot the shoreline, and fishing huts and stages ready for the daily catch. Or, if you’re a history buff, there are many significant houses in the region not to be missed. The John Cluett Heritage House in Belleoram is a traditional saltbox home and dates back to 1844—the oldest structure in Fortune.
Bay. And don’t miss a trip to the gorgeous Sunny Cottage Heritage Centre in Harbour Breton. Built in 1907, it’s one of the largest Queen Anne-style homes on the island. Transport yourself on an unforgettable boat adventure that will give you a rare and authentic look into coastal life. Leaving from Hermitage, weave along the craggy, rolling shoreline, visiting the remote villages of Gaultois, McCallum, Francois, and Grey River.

TERRA NOVA – EASTPORT ADVENTURES

DAY 1
If you love camping, a visit to Terra Nova National Park is a must. The park’s landscape varies from the rugged cliffs and sheltered inlets on the coast, to the rolling forested hills, bogs, and ponds of the inland. Bike, swim, picnic, hike, kayak, golf, or take the kids to the spectacular marine touch tank at the Visitor Centre in Newman Sound. In the afternoon, relax as the little ones spend the day exploring the playgrounds.

DAY 2
If you’re looking to dig your toes into some soft warm sand, then set out for the Eastport Peninsula—home to beautiful white sandy beaches. Drive by sheltered coves and sparkling waters until you find the perfect place to lay a blanket for an afternoon at the beach. The Beaches Heritage Centre is a great place to check out live theatre and gallery exhibits that celebrate traditional and modern art. With a 200-seat theatre and a full schedule of programming, there’s something for theatre lovers all year round.

DAY 3
Just outside Terra Nova National Park’s west entrance is Splash ‘N’ Putt, a water-based amusement park. Spend the day having a blast as you and your family play minigolf, try go-karting, ride the bumper cars and boats, or fly down the 300-foot waterslide. Relax in the heated pools and kiddie recreation area, and then indulge in a frozen treat from the dairy bar next door.

Where icebergs feel as welcome as the tourists.

If it’s 10,000-year-old icebergs you seek, look no further than the northeast coast of Newfoundland. There are many amazing locations to view these sculptural ice giants, but no place on Earth is as good as this rugged coastal paradise. Bergs float down from Greenland every year, and can be viewed from open water or shore.

Start in Lewisporte, and experience everything Islands’ Villa has to offer. Relax on the deck of one of their luxurious suites and enjoy the sunset as it disappears behind tranquil Lewisporte harbour as you soak in the hot tub.

Finish your drive to Twillingate, one of the most visited destinations in the province. Along with world-class iceberg experiences come world-class accommodations, including the Hodge Premises Inn, which offers a nostalgic return to yesteryear. Wake up with the sounds of seabirds and waves lapping on the shoreline, and the smell of coffee brewing in the downstairs café.

Visit the small town of Gander and outlying communities, whose citizens inspired the Tony Award-winning Broadway musical, Come From Away. Gander itself doubled in size when it welcomed nearly 7,000 passengers from around the world on September 11, 2001.

20 years later, the people of Gander and surrounding area – plus all of Newfoundland and Labrador – remember. We continue to pay tribute to the victims, honour the first responders, and hold in our thoughts all those whose lives changed in a single day.

Gander boasts a rich aviation history, which can be learned by visiting the freshly renovated, world-famous International Lounge at the Gander International Airport. Following a day of storytelling, head to Sinbad’s Hotel and Suites – located in the heart of downtown Gander – for a gourmet meal at the restaurant. Finish the night mingling with a cocktail at the lounge before settling in for the night.

Legend has it, somewhere buried beneath the sands of Lumsden Beach, is Billy Murin’s treasure. However, on the beaches throughout “The Shore” (Route 320), it isn’t the buried gems and jewels that make you rich. It’s the treasured memories that last a lifetime.

Scattered throughout this pristine landscape are beaches that are filled with just as much history as it is with sand. In rural communities like Lumsden, Musgrave Harbour, Cape Freels, and Deadman’s Bay, surf, sand, and sun happily meet for all to enjoy.

Relaxing on the hot sand and swimming in the chilled ocean does the soul wonders after a day of adventure – both on land and on water. Kayak through Newtown, known as the Venice of Newfoundland and Labrador. Hook into a cod fish, or if you’re up for the ultimate challenge, reel in a Porbeagle Shark and pose for a picture before releasing it back into the Atlantic.

Please refer to the Traveller's Map for more detail.
Central Newfoundland offers an outdoor experience with unusual history, Old English words and Irish customs, aviation history, and music far removed from sea shanties. Hike to see an iceberg, camp in a national park on the coast, and uncover the tragic history of the Beothuk.

Dorset Trail
Start: Route 410
Length: About 300 km

A thousand years before Europeans arrived, the Dorset were quarrying soapstone for cooking pots and lamps at Fleur de Lys on the Baie Verte Peninsula. Dorset Soapstone Quarry National Historic Site is the oldest-known mining site in an area known for its complex geology. Take Route 410 to Fleur de Lys to see it.

In the 19th and 20th centuries, the peninsula’s mines produced gold, asbestos, copper, and other minerals, and that history is explored in the Baie Verte Peninsula Miner’s Museum.

The French were fishing these shores well into the 19th century. This heritage can be seen at museums and historic sites throughout the region, like the Outport Museum and Tea Room in La Scie, which offers a glimpse into rural outport life during this period. There’s also a replica of a 16th-century Basque fishing vessel here.

Nearby is Tilt Cove, the smallest town in Canada with a population of four. In 2015 the hit film Ant-Man, based on the Marvel Comics character of the same name, recruited Tilt Cove to promote the movie with a one-foot-high billboard.

From spring to fall, you’ll have plenty of opportunity for whale watching and iceberg viewing. Some of the best places to see them are from the French Shore Lookout and the Lookout Trail in La Scie, and the Ocean View Hiking Trail in Pacquet.

Outdoor enthusiasts can extend their time here with guided hunting, fishing, ATVing, snowmobiling, and other backcountry adventures.

Green Bay and the Beothuk Trail
Start: Springdale or South Brook
Length: About 300 km. Add a 5 minute ferry crossing to Long Island.

Green Bay plays host to an annual parade of 10,000-year-old icebergs calved from the giant glaciers of Greenland. These castles of ice can be viewed from the shoreline or by boat tour. Whales are no strangers to Green Bay either, and there are plenty of opportunities for whale watching in the area – sometimes even just from a dockside restaurant.

In Springdale, take the Indian River Walking Trail to explore the estuary. Be sure to bring your binoculars for bird sightings and your camera to capture the fantastic scenery. Join a local tour operator for a guided hike or picnic, or learn the basics of wilderness cooking.

Take Route 391 to King’s Point. King’s Point Pottery Craft Gallery and Studio have been plying their craft here since 1992, and their work reflects the inspiration of the area. The nearby King’s Point Whale Pavilion features interactive information on anything you’d like to know about these incredible sea creatures. Don’t leave without hitting the Alexander Murray Hiking Trail. It rises more than 300 metres and provides an unsurpassed view of Green Bay and any icebergs that might pass by.

Next, after backtracking a little, take 380 to Robert’s Arm. Start with the Hazelnut Hiking and Adventure Trail. These hills are particularly luminous in the fall, but the trek is beautiful year-round. Further north on Route 380, head to the Pilley’s Island Heritage Museum in scenic Pilley’s Island.

In Triton, take a guided tour of the Triton Sperm Whale Pavilion. See the 13-metre Sperm Whale skeleton, and learn about the giant squid that once washed up onshore in Badger Bay. Take to the sea with a local tour operator to see icebergs, whales, waterfalls, shipwrecks, mussel farms, and a sea cave called Nanny’s Hole.

On land, hit the Maple Ridge Hiking Trail. 5 km of coastal terrain awaits, but tack on some extra time to enjoy the outdoor pool, boat launch, and public pier area. Get even further off the beaten trail by taking a short ferry ride from Pilley’s Island to Long Island.

Exploits Valley

Start: Badger
Length: About 386 km

Take Route 370 south along the Exploits River to Buchans and the island’s second-largest lake, Beothuk Lake. Historically, this area was the winter territory for the now-extinct Beothuk people. This area is also known for its wilderness experiences, and adventure guides will happily arrange backcountry tours for you.

The Exploits is the longest river on the island and hosts the king of game fish—Atlantic salmon. Follow Route 1 to Grand Falls-Windsor, where the Salmonid Interpretation Centre tells all about this remarkable (and great tasting) fighter. Run the Exploits Canyon on a rafting tour, or enjoy a relaxing float downstream.

The Demasduit Regional Museum in Grand Falls-Windsor explores the 5,000-year human history of this area, including the Beothuk. Walk the Corduroy Brook Nature Trail and visit the Nature Centre to learn about the wetlands and its flora and fauna. If you’re visiting in winter, stick around for the Mid Winter Bivver, an annual festival including snowmobile rides, gourmet food, and live entertainment.

Nearby Bishop’s Falls, formerly a major railway hub, is home to one of the longest train trestle bridges in the country. It now carries hikers and ATVs instead of trains, but its almost 300-metre length gives an indication of why this river divided the island for centuries. In the winter months, this bridge is popular for skiing, snowshoeing, and snowmobiling. For sweeping views of the river, head to Fallsview Municipal Park.

Below Bishop’s Falls, the river empties into the Bay of Exploits, a picturesque area dotted with islands. Route 350 takes you to the western side of the bay and Botwood, which in the 1930s was a refuelling stop for the first transatlantic air passenger service. Visit the Flying Boat Museum at the Botwood Heritage Park, Museum, and Archive to learn more about this aviation history. Important moments in its history are chronicled in 13+ artistic murals located throughout town. Stretch your legs on the Botwood
Walking Trails and soak up the seaside views – on the Killick Island Walk you’ll see bunkers from WWII.

North of Botwood, the road forks at Northern Arm. Continue along the Bay of Exploits on Route 352. This road follows the scenic coast, with ample iceberg viewing opportunities in the spring. In Point Leamington, climb to the summit of Rowsell’s Hill Nature Trail for views over the whole area. In Fortune Harbour, join a kayaking tour around the coast, including a paddle to resettled Exploits Island.

Coast of Bays
Start: Bishop’s Falls
Length: About 485 km

Take Route 360 south from Bishop’s Falls (be sure to fuel up beforehand) and keep an eye out for the caribou herd that makes their home on the barrens. As you near the southern section, the forests and barrens give way to a fjordland of secluded bays and deep inlets: Hermitage Bay, Connaigre Bay, Great Bay de L’Eau, Corbin Bay, Belle Bay, Fortune Bay, and Bay d’Espoir.

At the junction at Route 361, you have a few choices. Route 361 will bring you to several scenic communities in Bay d’Espoir, including Milltown and St. Alban’s. Here, join a local boat tour to explore the great mysteries of the bay, including a resettlement tour of Great Jervis or a traditional beach boil-up.

Head back towards Conne River on Route 365, home to the Miawpukek First Nation Reserve. A powwow held here every July introduces visitors to Newfoundland Mi’kmaq traditions, including plenty of dancing, spiritual walks, and special ceremonies. At the Miawpukek Culture and Family Recreation Park, you may encounter locals building a traditional birch bark canoe – and don’t forget to climb the wooden staircase to Clem’s Lookout for a view over the bay. Outfitters with Indigenous guides will also lead you deeper into the interior on snowmobiling or ATV tours.

Further south on Route 360 is Harbour Breton, one of the oldest and largest communities on the south coast. First settled by French fishermen, and later by the English, its commerce was dominated for decades by the Newman family, famous for their port wine, which is still available today. Learn about the Newman story at the Elliot Premises. Tour the Sunny Cottage Heritage Centre, a large well-preserved Queen Anne-style home built in 1907. Visit Deadman’s Cove beach, and walk the leisurely Mile Pond Boardwalk. Top it all off with a hike up to Gun Hill Lookout for a spectacular view. On a clear day, you can see St. Pierre et Miquelon.

Route 364 takes you to Hermitage, where Routes 362 and 363 can take you deeper into the Coast of Bays. Here you’ll find deep fjords and ocean vistas. Belleoram is home to the annual Iron Skull Folk Festival and the Iron Skull Mountain Hiking Trail, a challenging trek but worth it for the views. For a dose of history, visit the John Cluett Heritage House, which dates from 1844 and houses many historical artifacts from that period.

Explore other small communities like St. Jacques, Boxey, Coomb’s Cove, and Wreck Cove, take in the views and beachcomb the area’s many beaches. Pool’s Cove marks the entrance to the Bay du Nord River, a designated Canadian Heritage River.
South Coast Adventure
Start: Hermitage
Length: Ferry crossings from 20 to 90 minutes

Hop the passenger-only ferry in Hermitage, headed for Gaultois and McCallum.

Spend some time in Gaultois, where there is no shortage of fresh seafood and warm hospitality, and hike the interior trail to the resettled community of Piccaire. At the local inn, ask about events or activities happening during your visit. McCallum, another small village only accessible by boat, has walking paths and is best explored as a day trip from Gaultois.

From McCallum, there’s a ferry that runs weekly to Francois, a small fishing outport framed by the walls of a deep fjord. This route requires careful preparation. You’ll have to spend a week in Francois before you can return to McCallum, and the service can be delayed due to weather or medical emergency. Be sure to check ferry schedules before heading out and make all necessary accommodation arrangements in advance.

Fortune Bay Adventure
See description under Eastern Road Trips (p. 243).

Kittiwake Coast: Road to the Isles
Start: Notre Dame Junction
Length: About 311 km

Lewisporte is a major service centre for Notre Dame Bay. Historically known for shipping and forestry, learn more about this history at the By the Bay Museum. Other attractions include boat tours, walking trails, entertainment-chocked festivals, and even a dinner theatre.

Walk the South West Brook Estuary Bird Watching Trail. 60 species of birds and waterfowl are found here. Then, take a guided trip into the Lewisporte area’s backcountry to encounter woodland caribou, moose, and other wildlife.

The Loon Bay and Birchy Bay areas will appeal to birdwatchers and beachcombers alike – watch for terns diving for fish as you stroll. Be sure to tour the Over the Top Museum to learn what life was like here in the early 1900s. There’s also a scaled replica of the schooner Over the Top, built to honour Newfoundlanders and Labradorians who lost their lives in WWI. Nearby is Notre Dame Provincial Park. This serene, forested park borders on the calm waters of Junction Pond and is ideal for camping, canoeing, kayaking, and swimming. Sink your toes into the sandy beach, and take a refreshing dip in the water.

A major attraction on this part of the coast is the Beothuk Interpretation Centre Provincial Historic Site in Boyd’s Cove. Tour the exhibits and artifacts, and an easy 1.5 km walking trail leads to a former Beothuk village site – today, all that remains are the outlines of housepits.

On your way towards Twillingate, take a slight detour on Route 345. There are hiking trails and berry picking opportunities along this stretch, and the town of Bridgeport is a little-known hotspot for iceberg viewing.

Take Route 345 back to Route 340 and Dildo Run Provincial Park. The park is open year-round and is popular for its cross-country skiing in winter and camping, hiking, and paddling in summer. On the drive to Twillingate, you’ll see a giant Sei whale skeleton on the dock outside the Prime Berth Twillingate Fishing and Heritage Centre. Join the captain on a fishing trip, or take a boat tour to scout for whales and icebergs.

Twillingate embodies everything Newfoundland and Labrador outports are famous for: rugged coastline, picturesque streets, and lush countryside roads. In the waters off the coast, look for whales, dolphins, seabirds, and – if the season is right – icebergs. Twillingate sits in the heart of Iceberg Alley. A great place to view from land is Long Point, where a lighthouse stands atop a high cliff overlooking the bay. Boat and kayak tours are plentiful here.

Twillingate has live entertainment almost every night and festivals throughout the season, including the Unscripted Twillingate Digital Arts Festival, where visitors participate in experiential digital arts workshops along with music, food, and entertainment events. Attend a live show at the Twillingate New World Island Dinner Theatre, or join a fun-filled kitchen party with the Split Peas. Wrap up your visit with a trip to the Twillingate Museum and the Isles Wooden Boat Museum, both of which pay tribute to the area’s vibrant past.

You’ll have your pick of restaurants, cafes, and bars around here, as well as the Auk Island Winery. Hikers can take advantage of the Rockcut Twillingate Trails network. These will carry you along the coast to hidden coves and great views overlooking the islands.

Nearby outports like Too Good Arm and Herring Neck are full of historic homes and colourful fishing sheds, and as you navigate the winding coastal roads and streets, you’ll find photo-worthy moments at every turn.

Kittiwake Coast: Islands Experience

Start: Route 335
Length: About 115 km. Optional ferry crossings from 20 minutes to Change Islands and 75 minutes to Fogo Island

Change Islands has a way of slowing you down. Only about 300 people call this idyllic and historic island home, and many of the island’s original dwellings, stages, and fishing sheds have been perfectly preserved. The place inspires artists of all backgrounds – head over to the Forge and Fibre to watch a blacksmith create custom ironwork using a traditional coal forge, or learn about rug hooking and other textile techniques at Newfoundland Original Hooked Rugs.

While here, hike the Squid Jiggers Trail, which hugs the rugged coastline, and visit the Olde Shoppe Museum, a private collection of local artifacts from the early 19th and 20th centuries.

Fogo Island, the largest along Newfoundland and Labrador’s vast coastline, is home to eleven settlements, each with its own distinctive flair. Traditional craft is in abundance here. You’ll see plenty of it at the Fogo Island Workshop, where handmade furniture and textile design reflects the island’s ingenuity.

Settled in the 18th century, Tilting is a National Historic Site of Canada and a Registered Heritage District. Wander through the tall, lush grasses and run your fingers over the red paint of old fishing stages, or learn more about this incredible history on a walking tour of...
Tilting and Oliver’s Cove.

In 1967, island residents had to decide whether or not to leave their home to resettle. Instead, the community-based Fogo Island Co-operative Society Limited was formed to build a sustainable economy around the sea and its natural resources. They built more boats, took over abandoned processing facilities, and sought new markets.

As you might expect from a place so in touch with its heritage, there’s no shortage of festivals here. Soak up the music at the Brimstone Head Folk Festival and the Etheridge’s Point Seaside Festival, or indulge your sweet tooth at the Fogo Island Partridgeberry Harvest Festival. A number of museums, such as the Bleak House Museum and the Marconi Wireless Interpretation Centre, amongst others, celebrate Fogo Island’s unique history.

Coastal hiking trails will lead you to resettled communities and scenic lookouts—you may even catch a glimpse of the island’s caribou herd. The Brimstone Head Hiking Trail leads you to a place identified by the Flat Earth Society as one of the flat earth’s four corners. For an easier walk, stroll the Joe Batt’s Point Walking Trail to see the Great Auk statue commemorating the now extinct bird species.

Kittiwake Coast: Road to the Shore
Start: Gander or Gambo
Length: About 307 km

Gander is an airport town. As one of a few airports capable of handling the traffic when US air space closed on September 11, 2001, Gander was perfectly positioned to welcome 38 airplanes and close to 7,000 stranded passengers, almost outnumbering the locals.

People up and down the Kittiwake Coast opened their homes and hearts to these strangers from all over the world, providing warm beds and home-cooked meals during a truly terrifying time. The kindness and hospitality shown to these visitors has become the basis for the Tony Award-winning Broadway musical Come From Away. When you’re in Gander, take the Beyond Words Tour and learn more about the events and the people who inspired the play.

Gander, known as the Crossroads of the World because of its role in post-war transatlantic aviation, was a transhipment point for aircraft being flown to Britain during WWII. Today it’s a modern service town, but its air history is vividly remembered in the town’s aviation museum, and in the town’s street names.

For a breath of fresh air, head to the Thomas Howe Demonstration Forest and Cobb’s Pond Rotary Park. At the Gander Heritage Memorial Park, visitors can view various monuments reflecting the aviation and military history of Gander. In the winter months, the Airport Nordic Ski Club provides cross-country skiing and snowshoeing.

Follow Route 330 north to Gander Bay, a scenic area known for its great salmon fishing. Then it’s onward to the Carmanville Wetlands Interpretation Centre and Nature Trail, which offers 4 km of walking trails paired with birdwatching opportunities for songbirds and waterfowl.

There are three popular sandy beaches along this route, at Musgrave Harbour, Deadman’s Bay, Lumsden, and Cape Freels. First up is Musgrave Harbour, where you can follow up a beach stroll with a visit to The Fishermen’s Museum. Originally built in 1910 by Sir William Coaker, the museum displays artifacts from the fishery over the years, and features a beautifully-painted mural on its exterior.

Lumsden Beach is the most popular beach on the Kittiwake Coast, but it’s rarely crowded — there’s enough space for everyone, and then some. Local folklore suggests that pirates once roamed these shores. The Wonder Shore — Lumsden Shoreline Hiking Trail will take you along the coast, over sand dunes and rocky cliffs, to resettled communities and graveyards.

An important nesting habitat for several species, the Cape Freels coastline is a designated Important Bird Area by BirdLife International. Keep an eye out for the Common Eider, Common Murre, Razorbill, Arctic Tern, and more. One of the best places to birdwatch is on the Wonder Shore — Cape Freels Hiking Trail.

The New-Wes-Valley area has a unique history. The waters here are a bit warmer, which means the area has milder winters. This is what first attracted Indigenous people to the area thousands of years ago. Excursions available include hiking and kayaking, beach boil-ups, and berry picking. For a gentle trek, try the Business Pond Walking Trail, part of the Wonder Shore Trail system. Before you leave, pop into Norton’s Cove Studio to peruse the artwork.

Newtown — the Venice of Newfoundland — is built on a series of tiny islands. The Alphaeus Barbour House is a Queen Anne-style mansion built in 1904 by a local merchant. Inside are many original furnishings and fittings.

Nearby Greenspond is a photogenic community, and one of the oldest continuously inhabited outports in the province, with a European presence dating back to the 1690s. Wander around town to see historic buildings, hike the Wonder Shore — Greenspond Hiking Trail, or take a boat tour to look for birds, icebergs, and whales. Your guides may also lead you to resettled islands and secluded beaches, where you’ll enjoy a hearty meal cooked over an open fire.

In Dover, head to the lookout over the Dover Fault, a major break in the Earth’s crust, marking the area where the North American and European continents collided 150-million years ago. The coast around Dover and Hare Bay is excellent for whale watching, iceberg viewing, fishing, and birdwatching. Hop on a boat tour that will take you out exploring the nooks and crannies of the Kittiwake Coast.

At the end of this scenic drive is Gambo, birthplace of Joey Smallwood. He successfully led the province into Confederation, and became our first Premier when Newfoundland joined Canada in 1949. Several commemorative pieces that recall his life and work, including a statue and a museum, dot the town. Logger’s Memorial Park highlights the community’s storied logging history, while the David Smallwood Park has access to trails and a natural swimming hole. This is also the location of the Just Imagine Dinner Theatre, based on events from September 11, 2001.

Stop at Joey’s Lookout on your way out of town for magnificent views over Gambo and the Gambo River.

Kittiwake Coast:
Road to the Beaches
Start: Glovertown or Traytown
Length: About 90 km. Add a 1 hour ferry crossing to St. Brendan’s

The Eastport Peninsula is famed for its sandy beaches. Take Route 310 from Route 1 at Glovertown or Traytown and get ready for some beachcombing.

There’s more here than just sand, including exceptional hiking on the Damnable Trail network. Ranging from rugged and challenging coastal trails to leisurely strolls along beaches and through historic communities, the network has something for every ability. The leisurely
Ken Diamond Memorial Park & Trail in Glovertown is a great place to start. Before you leave, pay a visit to the Glovertown Museum – The Janes House, to learn about the resettlement history of the islands in Bonavista Bay. There are also informative exhibits about the area’s boat building heritage and educational exhibits about the lumber industry.

Eastport is the main beach hub. Eastport Beach and Northside Beach draw visitors all summer long – these white sandy beaches are connected by boardwalks and a nature trail. Northside Beach is the starting point of the High Tide Trail, part of the Damnable Trail Network. The town also hosts a well-regarded literary festival and an accordion festival each summer. Get further acquainted with the arts and culture scene by seeing what’s on at The Beaches Arts & Heritage Centre.

The aptly named Sandy Cove Beach can be found in nearby Sandy Cove. There are Damnable Trail network trails in this area, including the Old School House Trail, an easy 2 km trek to Happy Adventure. From there, explore the coast via boat tour or kayak to see resettled communities, sea caves, and even a little-known puffin colony.

The most photographed spot here is Salvage, pronounced with a long “a” as in “age.” This is the oldest European settlement along this part of the coast and is a classic outport with wharves, stages, fishing boats, and fishing paraphernalia.

Terra Nova National Park has become a favourite with families who like to camp, and no wonder. Kids have several playgrounds to choose from, while their parents can relax close by. Get up close with sea life at the Visitor Centre’s touch tank, walk the extensive trail system, and take in an entertaining evening show about park wildlife and ecology. The park is also our very first Dark Sky Preserve, and there’s a festival in August called Night Sky Celebrations. If you’re a golfer, you’ll appreciate the courses at Terra Nova Resort & Golf Community.

Road Trip Tips

If your trip includes a ferry jaunt, visit www.gov.nl.ca/ti/ferryservices/schedules for routes and rates. Some ferries do permit vehicles, with a set limit for vehicle capacity; other ferries are passengers only (no vehicles accepted) so plan accordingly.

Please check exact directions and road conditions before you start each road trip. Visit www.511nl.ca for current road conditions and ferry updates. Distances are estimates and for guidance only. Routes can be taken as is, or in reverse order.
Newfoundland and Labrador has always been a place I have dreamed of. When my husband and I decided where we wanted to explore for our honeymoon we knew instantly that this was the place we wanted to see.

Terra Nova

We spent two nights at Terra Nova National Park. From the boardwalks that took us along the water and through marshland, to climbing stairs taking us to breathtaking views, to spending the night under the stars.

My Favourite Spot, Twillingate

Something about the place I think will stay with me forever. Walking through the streets, exploring Long Point Lighthouse, eating delicious food, seeing the hills of colourful homes, walking nearby trails... it was easily my favourite.

Boyd’s Cove and the Beothuk

At the Beothuk Interpretation Centre there was so much to learn; and we got to actually see where the Beothuk village used to be. The trail took us through the forest, to the village, along a beautiful river, and to an amazing view.

King’s Point

Alexander Murray Hiking Trail! WOW. WOW. WOW. You have to climb and climb, but every step is worth every spot on this trail. The amazing view from the top and the waterfalls that you see along the way. A team of people volunteer to help keep this trail alive and maintained, and the hard work is so inspiring. Even though I was three months pregnant at the time, I am so glad we started and finished this trail.

An Unforgettable Adventure

Newfoundland and Labrador you sure were an adventure. We hiked beautiful trails with spectacular views, and I could have had an endless amount of nights sitting by the campfire listening to some of our favourite music. I tried tons of yummy food I never thought of trying before, and I saw Alan Doyle right out the car window. And I got to feel our little human move for the first time. I will never forget this place.

Book now, sleep easy.

The last thing you want to worry about while finding yourself off the beaten path is where you’re going to sleep. To avoid disappointment on your trip, make your reservations in advance. The range of accommodations is as varied as the scenery you’ll find across the province, so book before you arrive, and sleep easy while you’re here.
Reserve your ride early.

There’s a lot to see in this beautiful, big province, and if you’re planning on taking a few road trips to see it all, be sure to book your car rental in advance. That way, you can concentrate on the things that matter when you arrive, like the breathtaking scenery and the fresh coastal air.
Eastern
This historic region is home to many unique, charming communities, flanked by sheltered bays, inlets, and coves. In fact, this area was the first place John Cabot arrived during his 1497 New World voyage. It stretches from his famous landing place on the Bonavista Peninsula to the French islands of Saint-Pierre et Miquelon—accessible by a short ferry trip from Fortune.

The eastern region also lays claim to scenic driving routes and several provincial parks where you can camp, hike, and boat. Enjoy sweeping coastal landscapes and beautiful walking trails—some of the most impressive on the island—that weave through land richly populated with migratory birds like kittiwakes, gannets, great black-backed gulls, and puffins.

Throughout Trinity Bay, Random Island, and the Burin Peninsula you’re bound to get a sense of the rich fishing culture, artistry, and history of the region. Discover quaint English architecture and iconic fishing sheds that delicately dot the coast. Here you can step back in time—often by experiencing performances like the renowned New Founde Lande Trinity Pageant. And it’s all part of the breathtaking charm and personality of the east.
Your Eastern journey starts here.

The eastern region is packed with adventure—from the Burin Peninsula, teeming with communities as unique as the dialects within, to the Bonavista Peninsula, where John Cabot first landed in 1497. Visit the picturesque town of Trinity with its legendary theatre, or hike the Skerwink Trail, an outdoor aficionado’s dream. Dive into history in Grand Bank at the Seamen’s Museum and explore exhibits that display the wonders of the deep-sea fishery. Or hop the ferry to a little piece of France, just 20 kilometres away.

Trek off the beaten path with a trip to Random Island via the causeway, and enjoy the tranquility and peace of a place that looks untouched by time. Then, go for an afternoon venture to gorgeous Trinity Bight, popular with visitors and tourists, as well as directors—several movies and television series have been filmed here. Decorated with a fine collection of historic buildings and homes, the town is best explored on foot. Join in on a walking tour presented by the Rising Tide Theatre Company.

STORIES AND SHORELINES

DAY 1
The Bonavista Peninsula—craggy rolling coastlines scattered with rock sculptures carved by the ocean and time—is a geographic work of art not to be missed. Start in Clarenville, a natural gateway to the Discovery Trail, and a panorama of scenery, historic sites, and coastal towns and villages. It’s also the perfect place to nestle in at night as you explore the peninsula on a series of day trips.
entitled “The New Founde Lande Trinity Pageant.” Follow the actors and meander the hilly streets, tucked away alleys, and notable buildings, all while delving into the history of the town and its significance to the province—presented with a comedic twist of course. Then, step back in time at the Green Family Forge where you’ll witness the legacy of six generations of blacksmiths.

Take a piece of the past home with you as the Forge turns out items for various craft shops around town. In the evening, grab a tasty bite at one of the local eateries before taking in a night of drama and comedy at the Rising Tide Theatre on the wharf.

DAY 2

Hiking fans will fall in love with the magnificent Skerwink Trail, an award-winning, 5.3-kilometre trail that encircles Skerwink head. Film fans should head out to New Bonaventure to visit the set of Random Passage, a miniseries depicting one woman’s struggle to survive early outport life. While in the area, hop on a boat tour and explore the coast while keeping an eye out for whales and seabirds.

Next, visit the root cellar capital of the world—Elliston. Before refrigeration and electricity came to rural communities, root cellars kept food from freezing in the winter and spoiling in the summer. Wander around and notice these wonders tucked away in the hills. With over 100 still in working condition, they’re a feat of ingenuity that have truly stood the test of time. Continue on to the friendliest colony of puffins on the island. Tame, but full of excitement, you’ll be able to get within feet of these adorable birds.

Now leap back in history to the summer of 1497, when John Cabot sighted Bonavista (Oh Happy Sight). At the tip of the peninsula you’ll find a town that has been synonymous with the fishing industry for centuries. Experience rich fishing as you explore the Ryan Premises National Historic Site. Then it’s a short drive to Cape Bonavista Provincial Historic Site to admire the Cape Bonavista Lighthouse. Here, you’ll experience one of the only lighthouses in the world where you can still climb up the stone tower and see the same seal-oil-fuelled catoptric light apparatus that was used in the 19th century.

DAY 3
Take a morning drive down Route 235 and keep an eye out for small villages where residents still pursue traditional lifestyles. The coastline here is truly spectacular, and is best viewed on foot. Walk the Lighthouse Trail in King’s Cove, or take a stroll to view the sea arch at Tickle Cove.

COASTAL HERITAGE

DAY 4
The Burin Peninsula—affectionately referred to as “the boot”—comprises 39 communities, of which 38 are located directly on the coast. The area is rich in history, culture, and tradition—thriving on the gifts from the sea.

Start exploring by following Route 212 to Bay L’Argent, where you can take a daytrip by ferry to the remote communities of Rencontre East and Pool’s Cove on the western side of Fortune Bay. Here you’ll witness not only the isolated beauty of a land untouched, but also two tight-knit communities that rely on the sea and each other to maintain their way of life.

Then it’s on to Marystown, the largest community on the peninsula, and its commercial hub. Check out the museums and learn about the town’s proud fishing heritage.

DAY 5
Route 221 winds on to Burin, which is built along a series of high cliffs and sheltered coves—once a haven for pirates and privateers because of the many narrow channels and dead-end passages. In the 1760s, Captain James Cook charted these shorelines and kept a lookout for rum-runners from a perch that still bears his name—Cook’s Lookout. If you’re in an educational mood, visit the museums and heritage houses in town. The Oldest Colony Trust building was once a cold storage facility and now exhibits 19th-century Burin artwork. If you’re visiting during the summer, stick around for some knee-bouncing, head-bobbing, musical entertainment.

Now it’s on to one of the most famous communities—St. Lawrence, where fluorspar was mined for several decades and may yet be again. To truly understand the town’s history and the hardships of mining life, visit the Miner’s Museum. Here you can view a list of miners who perished from their trade, and discover dramatic events like the 1942 rescue of U.S. sailors whose ship ran aground in a horrendous storm.

Fancy a trip to France? If so, you can hop on the ferry at Fortune headed to Saint-Pierre et Miquelon—the only remnant of the former colonial empire of New France. See page 429 for more information.

Fortune is also the site of the Fortune Head Ecological Reserve. It’s here that the world’s best examples of 540-million-year-old marine fossils are preserved. They mark the boundary between the pre-Cambrian and Cambrian geological eras. Tours begin at the Interpretation Centre.

For some classic Newfoundland and Labrador hospitality, head to Grand Bank—named for the high bank that extends from Admiral’s Cove to the water’s edge. Here, the cool waters from the Labrador Current mix with the warm Gulf Stream, creating the perfect nursery for fish, and thus the perfect location for a friendly fishing community. Stop by the Seamen’s Museum and explore artifacts from land and sea, used by local families from the 1800s to the mid 1900s.

Next visit Frenchman’s Cove Provincial Park, complete with 51 hectares of luscious habitat, a pebble beach, and a nine-hole golf course. Nearby Garnish has an excellent view over Fortune Bay, with Brunette Island and the Connaigre Peninsula off in the distance.

Where France and the island of Newfoundland meet.

The rugged landscapes of the Burin Peninsula are surrounded by an ocean that has shaped the people as much as the land. Just a short drive off the beaten track, it feels a world away. Near the world-famous Grand Banks fishing ground, every harbour is filled with history. While exploring the region, Hotel Fortune will allow you to finish your days in comfort, while watching the sun set over the Atlantic.

Discover the art of French living with a visit to Saint-Pierre, where you’ll find welcoming locals, fine cuisine, and a rich history of fishing and bootlegging. Check out the enchanting Ile aux Marins, where time seems to have stopped a century ago. On the islands of Miquelon and Langlade, experience complete peace and breathtaking natural beauty in every direction. No matter where you venture, you will find yourself lost in tranquility, having stumbled upon a place that many have yet to discover.

Discover your next food adventure.

The Bonavista Peninsula has become one of the island’s premier food destinations, and the Discovery Trail will transport you from taste to taste. Stellar Kitchen at the Clarenville Inn is a great way to begin your adventure. Newly renovated, they continue their dedicated farm-to-table ethos, making good local food accessible and delicious.

This region will offer an amazing array of food experiences. You’ll find them in small farms and on the beaches, at festivals and pop-ups, in food trucks and restored heritage buildings, and in small coves and along Church Street in Bonavista. Whether you’re eating a traditional dish made of vegetables stored in a root cellar after last year’s harvest or dining on fresh fish caught the same day in one of the province’s best restaurants, the Bonavista Peninsula is ready to serve.

Half a billion years in the making.

Newfoundland and Labrador is home to Discovery UNESCO Global Geopark, one of only five Global Geoparks in North America. From Southern Bay to Bonavista, 280 kilometres of stunning coastline await – with ten developed geosites that showcase the region’s geological, natural, and cultural diversity.

Take a trip back in time: walk among half-a-billion-year-old rocks, remarkably well-preserved Ediacaran fossils, and even glacial deposits dating back to the Precambrian ice age. No other place on the planet gives you a glimpse at nature’s early evolution quite like this. And if you’re in the mood for a stroll, the hiking trails won’t disappoint. Gaze at remarkable vistas and spot coastal formations from caves to arches to sea stacks. Maybe even cross paths with icebergs, whales, seabirds, and wildflowers along the way. It’s all right here. The past is waiting to be discovered.

To learn more, download the Discovery! Geological Tour app and visit www.discoverygeopark.com
Ten Geosites to Discover

1. Gun Hill Trail, Trinity
2. Fossil Site, National Historic District Boardwalk, Port Union
3. Haootia, Murphy's Cove to Lodge's Pond Trail, Port Union
4. Root Cellars, Elliston
5. The Chimney, Cable John Cove Klondike Trail, Spillars Cove
6. The Dungeon Provincial Park, Cape Shore Trail, Cape Bonavista
7. Lisbon Earthquake, Long Beach, Bonavista
8. Brook Point, Lighthouse Trail, King's Cove
9. Devils Footprints, Keels
10. Sea Arch, Tickle Cove
Eastern road trips

Discovery Trail
In 1497 John Cabot made landfall here. Visitors have been admiring its beauty ever since, about 425 km.

Heritage Run
The legendary land of the wooden ships and iron men of the deep-sea fishery, about 482 km.

Fortune Bay Adventure
A short sea cruise along the rugged north shore of Fortune Bay.
Eastern Newfoundland is synonymous with the fishing industry. Learn more about this way of life in major museums in Bonavista and Grand Bank. But there’s more here than just fish. How about a round of golf near two salmon rivers, or a walk along a coastal path so beautiful it has won international acclaim? There’s a theatre festival in Trinity that’s been entertaining travellers for many years with local productions, local stories, and local stars. There are beaches and boat tours, history and heritage – and even a ferry ride to France.

Discovery Trail

Start: Port Blandford or Clarenville
Length: About 425 km

Clarenville, founded in the 1890s, is a youngster compared to many other towns on the Bonavista Peninsula – but it’s the area’s busy service centre and commercial hub. Pay a visit to The Farm and Market, grab a coffee, and browse local products from over 35 vendors. Visit the Clarenville Heritage Museum to learn about the town’s history, or follow a meandering stream on the Rotary Trail.

For more adventure, join a local boat or kayak tour to explore the coastline and its resettled communities. As you make your way to Trinity, stop in Milton for a visit to the Newfoundland Cider Company for a taste of their barrel-aged ciders.

Trinity, once a prosperous fishing site, is one of the best-known communities in the province. Follow Route 239 to this coastal gem with many architecturally significant buildings. Take a guided walking tour, or just wander around. Among the fascinating exhibits are the Cooperage, where barrels were made, and a working forge where blacksmiths produce iron items to be sold in local craft stores. Fort Point (also known as Admiral’s Point) was established in 1748 by the British to protect Trinity’s mercantile assets, and a lighthouse was built here in 1871.

Coastal experiences are aplenty in Trinity, including whale-watching tours in Trinity Bay. Whales frolic and feed around our shores as they follow their annual migration route, while seabirds like puffins and gannets swoop and dive into the waters around your boat. You never know what unexpected visitor may pop up to say “hello” – even orcas have paid visits in recent years.

But it is for the theatre that travellers come in summer. The high comedy, farce, and enduring drama of Newfoundland and Labrador’s history takes to the streets for the New Founde Lande Trinity Pageant, a walking tour of the town led by actors. Rising Tide Theatre also presents Seasons in the Bight at its waterfront theatre. In New Bonaventure, visit the film set for the TV miniseries Random Passage, a replica of an early 1800s fishing village.

In Port Rexton / Trinity East, you’ll find the Skerwink Trail, which brings you to a sea stack called the Music Box due to the sounds the winds make. Finish off your hike with a visit to the Port Rexton Brewery. Then, visit the Champney’s West Aquarium, or head to nearby English Harbour where the English Harbour Arts Centre’s programming includes arts and crafts workshops, creative retreats, and musical performances.

Port Union, as the name suggests, is a union-built town, one-of-a-kind in North America. Founded by Sir William F. Coaker, an early 20th-century reformer, union organizer, politician, businessman, teetotaler, and failed farmer. Coaker devoted his life to bettering the lives of downtrodden fishermen.

Another interesting side trip is at Elliston, the root cellar capital of the world. Hundreds of these man-made, frost-free, food preservers – many still in use – recall the ingenuity of the pioneers. The Puffin Viewing Site here offers the best views of these comical birds from shore – they often land on the cliffs mere feet away. While here, visit the Home From the Sea John C. Crosbie Sealers Interpretation Centre, a modern museum and art gallery that brings to life the seafaring stories of sealers and their dangerous work, while the memorial honours the lives lost in the 1914 sealing disaster.

Before roads were built, there were two ways to get around: by boat or shank’s mare – on foot – and as a result, there are coastal trails galore in this part of the world. Guided or self-guided, hiking or walking on the Hike Discovery trail network takes you to sea stacks, long-abandoned outports, and interesting rock formations.

The northern tip of the Bonavista Peninsula is where John Cabot landed in 1497. Upon seeing land, his first words were ‘Oh buono vista!’ or ‘Oh happy sight!’! There you will find the Ryan Premises National Historic Site, a restored multi-building fish merchant premises, which tells the story of five centuries of the fishery in Newfoundland and Labrador.

The Mockbeggar Plantation Provincial Historic Site is the legacy of F. Gordon Bradley, Newfoundland’s first federal cabinet minister after Confederation. The grounds feature a restored fish merchant’s dwelling, alongside a former cod liver oil factory. Drop by on July 1, Canada Day, for a special celebration.

Outside town is the Cape Bonavista Lighthouse Provincial Historic Site and the Dungeon Provincial Park, where a collapsed sea cave has become a steep-sided crater. To see Bonavista’s coastline from a different perspective, hop on a boat tour and keep your eyes peeled for whales and icebergs. Back on land, join a chef for a boil-up on the beach, where you’ll enjoy tea and a snack over an open fire – or perhaps sample some salt fish, lobster, cod cheeks, or moose.

The best thing to do in Bonavista is park your car and walk. It’s a great way to see the old part of town and take in the architecture. Check to see what’s playing at the Garrick Theatre.

The upper portion of the Bonavista Peninsula hosts the province's newest UNESCO site, the Discovery Geopark, where a collection of 10 geologically-significant sites are scattered up the coast. Explore the rock surfaces at the Port Union National Historic District Boardwalk for fossils from the Ediacaran Period, admire the curious existence of the Devil’s Footprints in Keels, and more.

On the peninsula’s north side, turn off Route 235 onto Route 235-17 to Open Hall, Red Cliff, and Tickle Cove, famed for the song “Tickle Cove Pond.” Scenes from the feature film The Grand Seduction were filmed in this area. At Three Mile Ridge farm, visit the animals, tour the honeybee field, or hike to a cookhouse where you’ll enjoy a meal at sunset.
Heritage Run
Start: Goobies
Length: About 482 km. Add a 1 hour ferry crossing to the French Islands of St. Pierre at Miquelon

Route 210 takes you down the Burin Peninsula. Everything is different here – from the dialects, to traditional set and square dances, to the architecture.

Most communities are on the Placentia Bay side of the peninsula, because of the good anchorage, abundance of fish, and pebble beaches for drying fish. There are only a handful of communities on the west side in Fortune Bay. One of these is Bay L’Argent, where a coastal boat – passengers and freight only – connects with the community of Rencontre East and, further west, Pool’s Cove in the Coast of Bays. The return trip is a fine one-day excursion.

Swift Current has long been a favourite area for sport fishing, and antique car enthusiasts will want to check out Vernon’s Antique Car Museum.

The highway crosses maritime barrens, one of the main eco-regions that characterize the province’s ecology. Keep an eye out for rough-legged hawks. The boulders dotting the landscape are erratics dropped by glaciers when they melted 10,000 years ago.

Community names reflect the diverse European influences on early settlement: Spanish Room, Jean de Baie, Rock Harbour. Basque and Portuguese influences are sometimes buried under several layers of translation of the original names.

Marystown is the region’s commercial hub and service centre. Nearby Burin on Route 221 is built along a series of high cliffs and sheltered coves. Take a stroll along the Oldest Colony Trust boardwalk in Burin Harbour. Captain James Cook stationed troops atop what is now called Cook’s Lookout to watch for pirates and privateers. The community museum has excellent displays on the 1929 tsunami that devastated the coast.

Winterland, on Route 222, has the best soil in the peninsula, and has been a farming area since the dark days of the Depression. It’s also a good place for birdwatching.

In 1942, two U.S. warships ran aground near St. Lawrence. The people of St. Lawrence and Lawn risked their lives and successfully rescued 186 sailors, bringing the sailors ashore and into their homes. One of those rescued was the late Lanier Phillips. The kindness shown to him by the people of St. Lawrence – most of whom had never before seen someone of African American descent – helped him imagine a better world, and he went on to help desegregate the U.S. Navy. The Chamber Cove Heritage Walk traces the rugged coastline and leads to a memorial monument commemorating this event. For a deeper dive into the history of these shores, a guided walking tour is a must.

Grand Bank is the quintessential Newfoundland outport. More than any other, this town is associated with the schooner fishery, and the town’s architecture reflects the prosperity and loss that went hand-in-hand with that once-booming industry. Excellent examples of Queen Anne-style homes are topped by widow’s walks, where the wives of well-to-do skippers waited, sometimes in vain, for their husbands’ return. Buildings in the town have features borrowed from the architectures of eastern Canada and New England, reflecting the reach of the fish trade. The George C. Harris House is a perfect example of this period architecture, and the building’s widow’s walk provides a bird’s-eye view over the town. The Provincial Seamen’s Museum is located here as well.

Nearby Fortune derives its name from the Portuguese fortuna, which can mean both good and ill fortune. The lighthouse at Fortune Head, one of several prominent lights along the coast, is surrounded by an ecological reserve preserving fossils marking the boundary between the Precambrian and Cambrian geological eras, about 540 million years ago. Learn about this geological history at the Fortune Head Geology Centre.

From Fortune, you can take a side trip to France. A ferry service sails from here to Saint-Pierre et Miquelon – you might have already glimpsed them from Lamaline. These French islands are just an hour away and a good place to buy wine and perfumes. But remember, you have to present your passport and clear customs on your return, and American visitors will have to clear customs before entering the U.S. as well. You can find schedules and fares at www.spm-ferries.fr.

The last stop is Frenchman’s Cove on Route 213 where there’s a nine-hole golf course in the provincial park. Hiking trails from here to nearby Garnish and Grand Beach cross beaches that are a great place to see the sun set over Fortune Bay.

Fortune Bay Adventure

Start: Bay L’Argent
Length: Ferry crossings from 75 minutes to 1 hour and 45 minutes

From Bay L’Argent on Route 212, catch the ferry west to Rencontre East – a rural community accessible only by water – and then onwards to Pool’s Cove in the Coast of Bays. This ferry takes passengers only, and is essentially a full-day return trip or a multi-day trip that will give you a unique view of this remote corner of the province.

In Rencontre East, stay overnight in a historic vacation home overlooking the water. From here, set out on a local-led tour to immerse yourself in rural living. Catch a fish for lunch, take on a mountain hike, and explore hidden waterfalls and the remains of resettled communities while soaking up the solitude.

Pool’s Cove is the last stop on this journey. Take in this quiet community with a walk around town before boarding the boat back to Bay L’Argent. Pool’s Cove marks the entrance to the Bay du Nord River, a designated Canadian Heritage River, which flows through the rugged landscape of the Bay du Nord Wilderness Reserve. Backcountry wilderness recreation includes canoeing, kayaking, angling, wildlife viewing, birdwatching, and more.

Road Trip Tips

If your trip includes a ferry jaunt, visit www.gov.nl.ca/ti/ferryservices/schedules for routes and rates. Some ferries do permit vehicles, with a set limit for vehicle capacity; other ferries are passengers only (no vehicles accepted) so plan accordingly.

IN SEARCH OF PUFFINS

by Julie Sheffield
We visited Bonavista Peninsula in mid-June, 2013. When planning our trip, we made a list of things we hoped to do on our week-long visit, including spotting an iceberg, hiking, and seeing puffins. On the drive from Clarenville to Bonavista, we checked off seeing icebergs as we saw several as we travelled along the road by the coast.

Cape Bonavista

We visited Cape Bonavista Lighthouse where we saw more icebergs, as well as cows and horses grazing in fields right beside the road. It was amazing to see them pastured right on the coast, with icebergs in the background. Unfortunately, no puffins in that area.

We travelled down a dirt road to Dungeon Provincial Park, which is a natural cave in the rocks where you can watch the waves come in from the ocean. Then it was on to Elliston, which is where we were told we had a good chance to see puffins. We saw root cellars, small dories, and a beautiful Fishermen’s Memorial, but no puffins.

Skerwink Trail

Our research showed a hiking trail about a thirty-minute drive from Bonavista, so we set out to explore the Skerwink Trail. It is a 5.3-km trail that loops from Port Rexton to east Trinity Bay. The trail was well maintained and provided lots of scenic coastal vistas. We saw moose tracks, but no moose (and no puffins). We stopped in Elliston to look for puffins on our way back to Bonavista, but no luck.

Finally, Puffins!

Our last day in Bonavista was windy and rainy. We decided to drive to Elliston one more time, in search of the elusive puffins. We were determined to find them, so continued driving to the small community of Maberly. Lo and behold, we saw a sign saying Puffin Viewing Area. I braved the wind and rain and travelled the wet, grassy path to where I saw an island, covered in puffins! We checked all the boxes for our trip. I would love to return to Newfoundland and Labrador to explore further.

Bon voyage!

SINCE 2021
Travel with your own car!
Avalon
It’s where the sun rises first, at Cape Spear Lighthouse National Historic Site—the most easterly point in North America. And just a few kilometres away is St. John’s, a vibrant, historic, yet contemporary capital—500 years young. You’ll find a rainbow of clapboard houses that crowd hilly streets, where there are more artists than anywhere else in the country. And if you’re looking to dance the night away, the infamous George Street is chock-a-block with pubs and restaurants. Overlooking it all is Signal Hill, where in 1901 Marconi received the first wireless transatlantic signal at Cabot Tower.

Outside St. John’s, the landscape is not only scenically stunning, but also full of natural wonders: dazzling icebergs, whales including humpbacks and minkes, migratory seabirds, and roaming caribou.

The Avalon is full of legends, lore, and history. It’s home to Cupids—the oldest English settlement in Canada. And to outports like Placentia, Harbour Grace, and Heart’s Content—a transatlantic telegraph hub before satellites took over. The Avalon is also the Irish heartland, home of the East Coast Trail and, a little further along, Cape St. Mary’s and its famous northern gannet colony.
WHERE CITY MEETS SEA

DAY 1
Today, start by exploring downtown St. John’s with its intricate boutiques, lively bars, and mouth-watering restaurants. Share a bite and have a glass while listening to some toe-tapping tunes. If you’re hoping to take home some local music, Fred’s on Duckworth Street has you covered.

DAY 2
Begin your day at famous Signal Hill—where Marconi received the first transatlantic signal in 1901. Start in The Battery, a charming assortment of colourful homes scattered on the hilly shore. Around every corner you’ll be delighted with magnificent coastlines, far-off lighthouses, and deep blue as far as the eye can see. After, visit The Rooms, the provincial archives, art gallery, and museum. End your day by standing at the most easterly point in North America—Cape Spear Lighthouse National Historic Site.

DAY 3
Head for the high seas and hop on a boat tour—the best way to view the magnificent weaving coastline and to come face-to-fin with a 30-tonne humpback. Keep an eye on land and sky for puffins and other seabirds.
Next, it’s on to Quidi Vidi. Take a stroll around this quaint fishing village, nestled on the outskirts of downtown St. John’s. Be sure to stop by the Quidi Vidi Village Artisan Studios to see emerging artisans at work, then relax by taking in a tour and beer tasting at Quidi Vidi Brewery.

DRIVING THE IRISH LOOP

DAY 4
The Irish Loop, named for the area’s dominant ancestry, starts in St. John’s and heads south on Route 10 right into the heart of Irish Newfoundland. This scenic and historic drive travels through quaint outports, alongside roaring shorelines, and provides many opportunities to sail out to sea in search of whales, seabirds, and icebergs. Try a boat tour to the Witless Bay Ecological Reserve where you’ll see chatty puffins nesting on the rocky coast, and where humpback and minke whales are the favourite regulars.

Visit the Colony of Avalon in Ferryland—founded by Lord Baltimore. Here, an ongoing archaeological dig is uncovering the remains of the 1621 English colony. Next, experience a picnic like never before at Lighthouse Picnics, reached via a 20-minute walk across the Gaze. Recline on a soft blanket beneath a gorgeous lighthouse on the mildly craggy coast and enjoy a superb fresh lunch and a refreshing jar of lemonade. Retire to your warm and comfortable accommodations in Ferryland or Trepassey.

DAY 5
Start today by visiting Cape Race, where the Marconi station picked up and retransmitted the distress signal from RMS Titanic in 1912. See how the station—350 miles from the tragedy—played an important role in the rescue of the survivors, and discover the story of 14-year-old Jimmy Myrick, the first person to hear Titanic’s distress signal.

Next, examine some of the oldest fossils on Earth at Mistaken Point Ecological Reserve, the province’s fourth and newest...
UNESCO World Heritage Site. Register for a guided tour at the Edge of Avalon Interpretation Centre in Portugal Cove South to learn about what scientists call Ediacara biota—creatures that lived 575 million years ago, when all life was in the sea.

Now it’s on to Salmonier Nature Park—an environmental education, wildlife rehabilitation, and research centre. Stroll along the boardwalk that winds between the species-sensitive enclosures and get an up-close look at local animals that have been given a second chance thanks to the park.

DAY 6
For a complete change of pace, drive to Portugal Cove and take the 20-minute ferry ride to Bell Island—the largest of several islands in Conception Bay. Drive around the island, taking in the golden fields, fascinating rock formations, and beautiful beaches. Then take a guided tour of the old iron ore mine and get a first-hand look at the mining life. Drive back to St. John’s for a good night’s rest, or make accommodation arrangements on the island.

Born and raised in Brigus, this brave man went on to lead some of the most famous and dangerous exploratory expeditions to the Arctic in the early 1900s. At nearby Cupids, John Guy established the first English colony in Canada in 1610. Drop by the Cupids Legacy Centre to learn about these brave souls. The centre offers an extensive range of cultural programs throughout the summer.

Nearby is the John Guy Flag Site and probably the biggest Union Jack you’ll ever see, celebrating the town’s British heritage. Next it’s a visit to Harbour Grace—a delight to both aviation and history buffs. Amelia Earhart’s successful 1932 solo flight took off from here.

Now it’s time to frolic in the sand. The heart-shaped beach of Salmon Cove offers 500 metres of fine grey sand surrounded by imposing cliffs. A 2-kilometre hiking trail and warm water river offer activities for the whole family. At Bay de Verde, the shallow harbour glows aquamarine, hence its name. The Heritage Premises

HISTORY, HERITAGE, AND SEABIRDS

DAY 7
Drive to Brigus and take some time to walk around and admire the quaint homes and gorgeous shoreline. Stop by the house of Captain Bob Bartlett.

For more info call 1-800-563-6353
here offers a glimpse into the history of this famous fishing town, plus a display on seabirds that nest at the protected ecological reserve on Baccalieu Island.

DAY 8

Turn southwest and drive along the south shore of exquisite Trinity Bay. Don’t leave without witnessing the handcrafted wooden boats the region is famed for. Stop by the Wooden Boat Museum in Winterton where this timeless craft is kept alive, and skills are still passed down from generation to generation by word of mouth.

Everything changed in July 1866, when the first permanent telegraph cable connecting Europe and North America was hauled ashore at Heart’s Content. Heart’s Content Cable Station Provincial Historic Site tells a communications story of global significance and is a must-see while in the area.

Next, explore the waterfalls at Cataracts Provincial Park. Here the river enters a steep gorge, so take the stairs and walkways to get the best view. A great spot for photographs.

DAY 9

French explorer Jacques Cartier arrived in 1534 and eventually the French established a colony in Placentia in 1662. Visit this National Historic Site and witness the historical significance of the French fort ruins.

The last item on the menu is a real treat: Cape St. Mary’s Ecological Reserve, the most accessible seabird colony in North America. A wonderland for birdwatchers and explorers alike, you’ll gaze upon thousands of northern gannets nesting atop a 200-foot-high sea stack, and smaller numbers of razorbills, common murres, and black-legged kittiwakes nesting on shallow cliff ledges.

Welcome to the Baccalieu Coastal Drive.

The Baccalieu Coastal Drive is a scenic driving route that weaves its way through picturesque fishing villages, rugged coastline, and some of the province’s most important historic sites.

Just north of the curiously named Town of Dildo, you’ll find Green’s Harbour. Here, nestled on an oceanfront estate of over a hundred acres overlooking Trinity Bay, is the Doctor’s House Inn and Spa. This hidden jewel features picture-perfect gardens amongst breathtaking scenery.

Few places offer as beautiful a sunset as Trinity Bay, and Ocean Delight Cottages in Whiteway and Heart’s Delight are perfect for watching the sun descend in all its glory. For a region known for romance, these oceanfront accommodations make the perfect getaway.

The Wooden Boat Museum of Newfoundland and Labrador tells the story of how the Baccalieu Coastal Drive was navigated in the decades and centuries past – at least its waters. At this museum you’ll discover why the wooden boat is integral to our history, and cultural and provincial identity.

Avalonia’s geological mysteries.

The legendary coasts of Eastern Newfoundland offer a unique opportunity to explore the history of a long-lost continent: Avalonia. Our geological treasures are like nowhere else on earth, and as you travel back more than half a billion years you’ll discover stories of volcanoes, glaciers, and fossils that changed our view on how the world works.

This is the place where animal life began, and at the Mistaken Point UNESCO World Heritage Site you can explore a 565 million year old sea bed that contains fossils of our oldest animal ancestors. Continue your journey at the Fortune Head Geology Centre, and witness the moment animals took over the world. You can even meet some of the world’s biggest trilobite fossils at Manuels River. Discover how Avalonia continues to shape our communities; from a hike along the stunning coastal landscapes of the Discovery UNESCO Global Geopark, to the spectacular mineral formations near St. Lawrence. With so much to uncover, it’s time to come home to Avalonia.

The Avalon Peninsula looks like a piece from a jigsaw puzzle, with deep bays separating long fingers of land. Almost completely surrounded by water, it’s where the first European settlers put down roots. It’s full of history and home to the provincial capital, St. John’s, North America’s oldest city, which has a well-deserved reputation for food, music, and good times. The region is full of great places to see whales and seabirds, go sea kayaking or hiking, or enjoy sightseeing in centuries-old outports.

Osprey Trail
Start: Chance Cove
Length: About 70 km

As its name suggests, this is a good place to see these famous fish hawks. From Route 1, take Route 201 along the southern coast of Trinity Bay. This is a popular summer cottage area, and there’s a park with a sandy beach at Bellevue Beach.

Nearby is the spectacular Chance Cove Coastal Hiking Trail, which winds through forest, touching down at the far end of Chance Cove Beach. From there, the trail continues uphill and onward, offering spectacular views of the coastline as well as providing access to hidden sandy beaches, scenic lookout points, and sea caves.

Take a side trip to Arnold’s Cove and visit the Drake Heritage House. When nearby Haystack was resettled in the 1960s, the owner Frank Drake refused to leave. He lived there an additional 12 years before the home was floated by barge to its present location. Its interior is like a time capsule of the era and now serves as the community museum. Several hiking trails in the area also provide scenic lookouts and coastal views.

Cape Shore
Start: Whitebourne Junction
Length: About 303 km

Take Route 100 to Placentia. Castle Hill National Historic Site marks the remains of an old French fort. Plaisance, its original name, was the French capital of Newfoundland in the 17th and 18th centuries when the French and English battled for dominance in North America. There’s a fantastic view of the town of Placentia, the waters, and wooded hills.

Tour the O’Reilly House Museum, a Balustrade Queen Anne Victorian magistrate’s home, restored to its original grandeur. You’ll see period artifacts and tidbits of fascinating history — including a silver tea set gifted from King George III.

Just past St. Bride’s, follow the signs to Cape St. Mary’s Ecological Reserve, the most accessible and spectacular seabird colony in North America. Just 50 feet from the cliff-top viewing point nest thousands of northern gannets — beautiful birds with a wingspan of over six feet — crowded atop Bird Rock, a 200-foot-high sea stack. Razorbills, murrets, and other seabirds also nest at the reserve. If you have a question, ask one of the interpretive guides, who also lead nature hikes, or drop into the interpretation centre, which hosts concerts throughout the summer.
Take a slight detour to Salmonier Nature Park on Route 90, home to about 20 species of native mammals and birds that live in sensitive enclosures along an accessible boardwalk.

Baccalieu Coastal Drive
Start: Whitbourne, Route 80 or Veteran’s Memorial Highway, Route 75
Length: About 310 km

This route traces the long finger of the Avalon Peninsula between Trinity Bay and Conception Bay. Western access is from Route 80 near Whitbourne on Route 1.

In the late 19th century, Dildo was the site of an early fish hatchery and later, a whaling port. Now it’s a go-to destination for visitors intrigued by its name and seeking a selfie with the town’s mascot, Captain Dildo. It’s hard to say who is more famous, the good captain or American late-night talk show host Jimmy Kimmel – Dildo’s honorary mayor. He declared Dildo to be the sister city to Hollywood, and now there’s a Hollywood-style sign embedded in the hills over town.

Hop onboard a boat tour and look for whales and icebergs, or try your hand at cod jigging or scallop fishing. The entire coastline on this drive is dotted with historic fishing villages and dramatic rock formations, like the jagged peaks of Shag Rock in Whiteway. Don’t forget to stop in Cavendish for a photo of the rainbow of beachfront fishing sheds.

The first successful transatlantic telegraph cable was landed at Heart’s Content in 1866. The Cable Station here, once a major relay point for transatlantic telegraph messages, is now a Provincial Historic Site. You may feel inspired to stretch your legs on the Mizzen Trail, an easy 2-km trail around Mizzen Pond.

Nearby New Perlican has a collection of 20 colourful fishing stages on the water. Then it’s on to Winterton. Roll up your sleeves at the Wooden Boat Museum of Newfoundland and Labrador, and learn how traditional dories and punts were built.

The most north-westerly point of the peninsula is where you’ll find Grates Cove, which has an unusual National Historic Site – hundreds of rock walls, some dating back to 1790, built by farmers to keep roaming animals off their fields. Learn all about it on a guided walk.

The Grates Cove Studio & Café is a hidden gem. The two-room converted schoolhouse is both a place to try some unique Cajun/Newfoundland and Labrador fusion foods and peruse the studio’s collection of woodworking, pottery, and printmaking art.

In Blackhead, pick up an Ugly Stick and join a traditional shed party with food tastings, local entertainment, and a storytelling session (or two). Nearby, Salmon Cove’s heart-shaped beach offers a stretch of fine sand framed by tall cliffs.

The quaint town of Carbonear is chock-full of historic buildings, like the Rorke Stores Museum and the Old Carbonear Post Office, with its Second Empire-style clock tower. A walking tour will help you get your bearings. Otherwise, just stroll around this scenic town – you might even hear a live music session flowing from the Stone Jug.

This is pirate country. An Irish princess captured by pirate Peter Easton settled near here with one of Easton’s crew, Gilbert Pike, and lived happily ever after. Easton went on to infamy and fortune, while Princess Sheila NaGeira has inspired books, songs, and a stage production. The site of Easton’s old pirate fort is now a museum in Harbour Grace. You can also hike Pirate’s Path Trail for some of the best views over Harbour Grace Island and Carbonear Island.

Harbour Grace also played a role in pioneering aviation: Amelia Earhart took off from here on her solo flight across the Atlantic in 1932. The town still retains a wonderful inventory of historic buildings.

In Bay Roberts, drop by The Cable Building, a National Historic Site which houses the Road to Yesterday Museum and the Christopher Pratt Art Gallery. Then take a leisurely stroll along the shoreline through the original settlement’s meadows to Mad Rock on the Shoreline Heritage Walk and watch the sea crash against the craggy coast.

The first official English colony in Canada was founded at Cupids by John Guy in 1610, and the site is now being excavated. See the artifacts and exhibits at the Cupids Legacy Centre. Brigus was the birthplace of Captain Bob Bartlett, the ice pilot who guided Robert Peary to within striking distance of the North Pole in 1909. His home, Hawthorne Cottage, is now a National Historic Site, and the town retains much of its 19th-century character. Take an easy stroll around town to admire the charming old buildings, and make note of the unique stone walls lining the rivers. When you come to the Brigus Tunnel, walk through it. You’ll know what we mean.

Admiral’s Coast
Start: Colliers, Conception Bay South or Paradise
Length: About 90 km

Conception Bay South is a collection of shoreline communities, from Seal Cove to Topsail. Kelligrews will be forever associated with the song Kelligrews Soirée, also the name of the annual folk festival held in early July. These waters are great for scuba diving, especially around the ore carriers sunk by U-boats off Bell Island during WWII. Ocean Quest Adventures in Long Pond should be a first stop for divers interested in exploring these wrecks. Boat tour operators are available for anyone who’d like to whale watch, fish for cod, or kayak into a sea cave.

There’s a famous fossil bed and walking trail at Manuels River, also a snowshoeing route in the winter months. A guided tour will take you on a walk through time, to when trilobites dominated the seas – or you can join a campfire marshmallow roast and singalong. The interpretation centre is an excellent place to learn even more about the area’s history and conservation efforts, and just past Topsail is the town of Paradise where you’ll find more walking trails around several ponds. Continue on Route 60 to Topsail Beach. This is a popular spot for locals to picnic, or gather around beach fires. On clear evenings the sunset here is one of the most spectacular on the island.
Killick Coast
Start: Paradise, Portugal Cove or Logy Bay
Length: About 80 km. Add a 20 minute ferry crossing to Bell Island.

The Killick Coast extends east from Paradise along the south shore of Conception Bay to Cape St. Francis, and ends just outside St. John’s.

Travel to Portugal Cove via Route 50 or Route 40. From here, take the ferry to Bell Island and tour the former submarine iron mines, the lighthouse perched on a cliff, and see large outdoor murals inspired by the island’s history. The waters around this place are full of shipwrecks – diving tours will take you to the best spots.

From Portugal Cove, take Route 21 through Bauline to Pouch Cove (pronounced “pooch”) on Route 20. This is good berry picking country, especially on the gravel road to Cape St. Francis and along the Biscan Cove Path. This is part of the East Coast Trail network – as are many of the hikes on the Killick Coast.

The scenery along this coast is spectacular. Flatrock, Middle Cove, and Logy Bay are settled enclaves along a rugged shore, and around each bend in the road is another view of the coast that seems even better than the last.

Torbay is another rapidly growing town just outside St. John’s. Drive to the beach and take the Father Troy Trail along the shore, passing fields of farm animals and wildflowers. When it’s stormy, you can feel the power of the ocean pound against the rocks.

At Logy Bay, the Ocean Science Centre welcomes visitors to its seal tanks. Then it’s back to St. John’s, a few minutes away.

St. John’s and Environs
Start: St. John’s
Length: About 70 km

St. John’s, our province’s capital, is the perfect combination of big-city luxury and traditional small-town charm. It is the oldest city in North America, and is full of character and charisma, with a contemporary, sophisticated edge.

Downtown is home to a working port, years of history, dozens of award-winning restaurants, and the bright houses of Jellybean Row. An active arts community and energetic music scene ensure the city’s oldest streets are busy well into the night.

Cabot Tower, at Signal Hill National Historic Site, overlooks the city and harbour. Guglielmo Marconi received the first transatlantic radio signal here in 1901, ushering in the modern world of telecommunications. The North Head Trail winds around the tower and is popular for both locals and visitors, offering unparalleled views of The Narrows and downtown. It’ll carry you through the Battery, where tiny wooden homes still cling valiantly to cliffsides ravaged by ocean waves. The cliffs here are high, and sections of this trail are narrow. Be sure to stick to the path, and use the installed chains and handrails to negotiate the steep sections.

Wander the twisting, colourful, tree-lined streets on your way to visiting the provincial art gallery at The Rooms, Commissariat House Provincial Historic Site, Government House, or one of the many historic churches. The Grand Concourse walkways will impress you with their variety, as 160 km of trails run between St. John’s and neighbouring towns. The loop around Quidi Vidi Lake is... a popular spot, and you may catch sight of rowers training for the Royal Newfoundland Regatta, held the first Wednesday in August. Visit Quidi Vidi Village at the eastern edge of St. John’s and sample craft beer at the Quidi Vidi Brewery or check out up-and-coming artisans at the Artisan Studios. Back on the Grand Concourse, walk the Waterford Valley following the Waterford River to charming Bowring Park.

Tours are plentiful in St. John’s, giving you the opportunity to learn more about the city’s culture and history – or even practice your photography with a pro – while taking in the sights and sounds. Boat tours in the area offer whale watching, iceberg viewing, and fishing. Out on the Atlantic, you’ll see the city and its surrounding craggy cliffs with a brand-new perspective.

Rise early to catch the sunrise at Cape Spear Lighthouse, another of our many National Historic Sites. This is the first sunrise in North America, at the most easterly point of land on the continent. You can also join the East Coast Trail here for a hike. Continue on to Petty Harbour for some sightseeing or a boat tour with a side of fishing. Make a meal with your fresh catch, knit a net, or weave a sailor’s knot with Fishing for Success.

Irish Loop
Start: Salmonier Line (Route 90) or Bay Bulls (Route 10)
Length: About 312 km

A short drive down Route 10 takes you to the whale and seabird tours that operate in the Witless Bay Ecological Reserve. Tours leave from Bay Bulls, Witless Bay, and Mobile. Thousands of humpback and minke whales stop by to feed, and the plentiful food has attracted millions and millions of seabirds to the reserve’s four islands. Most years, 10,000-year-old icebergs drift past, making for an incredible triple natural threat found nowhere else.

Long before cars, people travelled between communities along coastal trails. That history inspired development of the East Coast Trail, stretching from Topsail to Cape St. Francis on the Killick Coast to Cappahayden on the Irish Loop. The trail offers a range of wilderness hiking and walking paths from easy to strenuous. Hike past towering cliffs, fjords, sea stacks, rock arches, and a wave-driven freshwater geyser called The Spout. Headlands offer spectacular views of our coastline and wildlife. Even the man-made elements, like the impressive suspension bridge at La Manche, complement the landscape perfectly. If you’d like to thru-hike the East Coast Trail, a local hiking tour operator can arrange accommodation, transportation between trail heads, luggage transfer, and meals.

This route is rife with song and storytelling too – much of which is influenced by the area’s strong Irish heritage (hence, the Irish Loop). Join a kitchen party in a traditional outport home at Sullivan’s Songhouse in Calvert.

Ferryland is one of the oldest European settlements in North America. The Colony of Avalon, as it was named, was founded in the 1620s by Lord Baltimore, whose family later founded the American colony of Maryland. Peer over the shoulders of working archaeologists as they uncover the remains of houses and cobble streets from the 17th century. The town’s famous lighthouse is home to Lighthouse Picnics. Pick up your basket of homemade delicacies and fresh lemonade, sit in the grass, and watch for whales, seabirds, and icebergs to pass by.
Cape Race is one of the first points of land in the New World observed by westward-bound sailors, and historically a treacherous one, sending literally hundreds of ships to the bottom. A lighthouse was built here in 1856. The nearby wireless station received and transmitted the distress signal from RMS Titanic in 1912. The UNESCO World Heritage Site at Mistaken Point showcases rare fossils from 575 million years ago, the oldest-known record of complex multicellular life on the planet. The visitor centre in Portugal Cove South has displays on all three attractions, but if you book ahead, you can also take a guided hike with an interpreter to see the fossil site up close.

In 1928, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly the Atlantic as a passenger when she took off from Trepassey. Listen to tales of fairies, pirates, and battles at The Edge of the Avalon Inn.

Route 10 becomes Route 90 at Holyrood Pond as the Irish Loop continues north along Salmonier Line. Watch for whales along the shore near St. Vincent’s, where they come so close to shore you can literally smell their breath. Stop by the Salmonier Nature Park, where injured native animals are rehabilitated, after which some make it their permanent home.

Road Trip Tips

If your trip includes a ferry jaunt, visit www.gov.nl.ca/ti/ferryservices/schedules for routes and rates. Some ferries do permit vehicles, with a set limit for vehicle capacity; other ferries are passengers only (no vehicles accepted) so plan accordingly.

Please check exact directions and road conditions before you start each road trip. Visit www.511nl.ca for current road conditions and ferry updates. Distances are estimates and for guidance only. Routes can be taken as is, or in reverse order.
SPIRIT OF THE ROCK

by Cathy Astolfo
The Spirit Of The Rock

Led by my cousin Wendy and her husband Dennis (Botwood-born), my husband Vince and I enter Newfoundland with tourist expectations. We leave with the spirit of the Rock inside us. From every window of our car, a panorama of beauty captures us. Rocky cliffs line the roads. Trees like old green fences bend in the direction of the wind. Houses of all different colours blend into the landscape with artistic freedom. Blankets of lupin, daisies, buttercups, roses, and clover sweetly scent the air.

Witless Bay

One particular day on our journey, we arrive at the Witless Bay Ecological Reserve for our boat adventure. The sun is warm and the wind refreshing. As we head out to sea, the waves are high and the ship plows up and then down again, a swing and a dip. Our Gatherall’s hosts are funny, as well as talented singers and tour guides.

Puffins And Whales

Puffins here are as numerous as the murres and seagulls. They flap their small wings furiously to combat the wind and propel their chubby little bodies. They are beautiful, with their orange beaks and feet. We then roller-coaster further out to sea and suddenly, we are surrounded by whales. Spouts everywhere. Captain Al says there are about 50 in the area. The humpbacks are the most playful. With a swish and a loud puff of water, two female humpbacks swim alongside our ship.

Alas, All Good Things Must Come To An End...

We have to head home tomorrow. “I trust we had a wonderful trip, saw some amazing sights, learned a few things, had a lot of laughs, met some interesting people and strengthened our friendships. Travel is about creating memories. I hope we have managed to create a lot of lasting, treasured memories over the last few days.” So reads Wendy’s travel book. Her hopes have more than come true. End of this wondrous journey. But how many times have I said the words “next time we visit”? Countless!

The Colonial Building was home to the Newfoundland and Labrador Legislative Assembly from 1850 until 1959. A gem of neoclassical architecture, the building’s grandeur is a testament to the optimism its builders felt about our future. Beautifully restored, this building is once again a gathering place for people to contemplate, challenge, commemorate, and debate our story of governance.

Labrador, known as The Big Land, is one of the last untamed, unspoiled places left on Earth. It stretches from the Strait of Belle Isle in the south to Cape Chidley in the far north, boasting towering mountains, massive rock faces, and an infinite supply of lakes and rivers. Here, you’ll find fresh air, crystal-clear waters teeming with whales and icebergs, and people rooted in culture and tradition.

The Expedition 51º driving route is an epic tour through immense stretches of unspoiled Labrador wilderness. It winds in and out of towns and villages where you can discover the history and culture of a people deeply rooted in tradition.

Torngat Mountains National Park is a mysteriously beautiful landscape reminiscent of the Earth a million years ago. This is where outdoor aficionados can indulge their passion with 9,700 square kilometres to hike, canoe, photograph, snowmobile, and cross-country ski.

Abundant in wildlife, Labrador is home to some of the best angling on the planet. Trophy-sized brook trout, Arctic char, ouananiche, and northern pike are regular sights. Local tour operators can help you find a great spot, and serious anglers can visit AnglingNewfoundlandLabrador.com for more extensive excursions. Under a blanket of magical northern lights, the winter months bring with them the hum of a thousand snowmobiles carving through the untouched wilderness. And the quieter winter pursuits like cross-country and downhill skiing, ice fishing, and winter camping are always good for the body and soul.
Your Labrador journey starts here.

Torngat Mountains National Park, known by the Inuit as the place of spirits, will transfix you with its towering mountains, vast fjords, flowing rivers, and Indigenous ancestry. Visit Happy Valley-Goose Bay—a town founded from a World War II airbase. A trip to Battle Harbour on the south coast is an absolute must. Here, you’ll immerse yourself in the traditional ways of the past, surrounded by the roaring ocean and awe-inspiring coastline. Saturated in history and culture, Red Bay is the essence of Labrador coastal living.

COVERING UNTouched GROUND

DAY 1
Starting in St. Barbe, catch the afternoon ferry to Blanc Sablon. Watch for soaring and swooping seabirds. Drive five kilometres to L’Anse-au-Clair—settled by the French in the early 1700s when they first came to this region to fish and hunt whales and seals. Walk along the Jersey Trail, a path tracing the rugged shoreline, scattered with interpretive plaques. Stop by the Gateway to Labrador Visitor Centre to view artifacts and get information. Then head to the soft, sandy beach and stretch out on a blanket.

DAY 2
L’Anse-Amour is where you’ll find the oldest-known burial mound in North America, dating back 7,500 years. Just down the road, Point Amour has the tallest lighthouse in Atlantic Canada, standing a whopping 109 feet. As you climb the steps, a guide will shed some light on the historical significance of this massive structure. Red Bay National Historic Site has intriguing displays and artifacts from the 1530s to the 1620s depicting Basque whaling operations. Learn about the hardship, exploitation, and profit associated with whaling, then view the preserved 16th-century chalupa—a small boat from which they hunted. In 2013, Red Bay was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

DAY 3

In Mary’s Harbour, catch the morning boat to Battle Harbour for an excursion to a picturesque fishing village established in the 1750s. This island community is a back-in-time adventure where you can escape the electronic distractions of modern life.

Take a guided tour of the 18th-century buildings and discover why this National Historic Site and District is the best-preserved traditional fishing village in the province. Explore the island and spend the night in a one-of-a-kind accommodation.

DAY 4

In the morning, catch the boat back to Mary’s Harbour and drive to St. Lewis to search for icebergs, and then to Port Hope Simpson where you can go hiking or fishing. There are some excellent trails in this area, and you can enjoy fishing for Atlantic salmon on pristine rivers. Spend the night at the hotel.

DAY 5

Set out for adventure in Cartwright on the doorstep of the Wunderstrands, a 50-kilometre sandy beach named by the Vikings when they sailed past it 1,000 years ago.

DAY 6

Today’s drive skirts the Mealy Mountains that dramatically rise from the shores of Lake Melville in southeastern Labrador. This is the site of the new Akami-Uapishk-KakKasuak-Mealy Mountains National Park Reserve, which will open to the public in a few years. End the drive in Happy Valley-Goose Bay. Have a late lunch at a local dining spot before visiting the Labrador Interpretation Centre, or see what’s on at the Lawrence O’Brien Arts Centre.

DAY 7

Happy Valley-Goose Bay is a great place to get out into nature. The Birch Brook Nordic Ski Club offers hiking in summer and winter, and cross-country skiing in winter. If you’re an aviation connoisseur, be sure to check out the American T-Bird T33 on Hamilton River Road, the Vulcan RAF bomber at the airport, and the CF 101 Voodoo in front of the 5 Wing Goose Bay Aerodrome.

DAY 8

The highway west of Happy Valley-Goose Bay is paved all the way to western Labrador. You’ll pass through Churchill Falls where one of the world’s largest hydroelectric stations has been operating since the 1970s. At the end of the road are the towns of Labrador City and Wabush. Both were once mining towns, but today only the Labrador City open-pit mine remains in operation.
DAY 3
Stopping in Natuashish in the early morning, visit this friendly Innu community that descends from a long line of caribou hunters.

Just after noon, the boat arrives in Nain, the northernmost permanent settlement along the coast and the final destination. The headquarters for Torngat Mountains National Park is here, but the park itself is 200 kilometres further north.

DAYS 4 & 5
Heading back on the coastal boat, you’ll revisit the same ports in reverse order and explore any attractions you may have missed on the way there. The boat arrives in Happy Valley–Goose Bay mid-afternoon on Fridays.

TORNGAT MOUNTAINS NATIONAL PARK
Accessible via plane from Happy Valley–Goose Bay, this National Park is truly astonishing. Located at the northern tip of Labrador, you’ll find a vast untouched wilderness, where the Inuit have lived for thousands of years. Their deep connection with this mysterious land informs the park’s management and programming. Experience hiking, camping, fishing, mountain climbing, and helicopter touring in a place you have to see to believe. For more information, visit torngatbasecamp.com

Locals know the best places to visit.

Stand still. The horizon has never been this quiet. The depths of the Grand Canyon are painted with people and even Alaska feels overpopulated. Labrador is the only place left where you can have this much space to yourself.

Surrounded by echoes of the past, journey along the Labrador Straits. Enjoy the thrill of adventure looking for icebergs and whales during a hike along the Pioneer Footpath. The view is eternal as you climb Atlantic Canada’s tallest lighthouse at the Point Amour Provincial Historic Site. Silence is broken as you hear the riveting story of “first oil” at the 16th-century Red Bay Basque Whaling Station, a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Take a boat tour in Iceberg Alley from Mary’s Harbour and retreat to the wild nature and historic buildings at one of the most restorative, off-the-grid retreats in North America—Battle Harbour National Historic District. Catch the rhythm of local traditions, generations in the making. With 9,000 years of mystery beneath each step, you’ll retrace the lives of the people that call this place home.

Labrador road trips

Expedition 51°: South
Discover the history and explore the unspoiled environment, about 807 km.

Expedition 51°: Central
The land, air, and sea travel centre for all of Labrador, about 42 km.

Expedition 51°: West
Discover The Big Land along the Freedom Road and beyond, about 534 km.

North Coast
A boat ride like no other: from central Labrador to the Inuit and Innu communities of the north coast.
Expedition 51°: South
Start: L’Anse-au-Clair
Length: About 807 km. Add a 1 hour and 45 minutes ferry crossing from St. Barbe to Blanc Sablon. Add a 1 hour ferry crossing from Mary’s Harbour to Battle Harbour.

From St. Barbe, take the ferry across the Strait of Belle Isle to Blanc Sablon on the Labrador-Québec border, a great way to see whales and seabirds.

It’s a short drive from Blanc Sablon to L’Anse-au-Clair, the beginning of Route 510 on the Québec-Labrador Highway, also known as Expedition 51°.

This area has thousands of years of Indigenous history. French settlers arrived in L’Anse-au-Clair in the early 1700s to fish off the coast – today, it remains a picturesque fishing village. The Gateway to Labrador Centre has displays on the history of the area, and what to see and do. Nearby, the Jersey Trail leads to an interpretation area on Channel Islands fishermen who fished here in the 19th century. This is also the start of the Labrador Pioneer Footpath. Prior to roads, these paths linked communities from L’Anse-au-Clair to Pinware.

Anglers should be prepared to meet their match on the Forteau River during the months of July and August. If you’re a non-resident, you’ll need to hire a guide.

North on the highway is L’Anse-Amour National Historic Site, where you will find the oldest known burial mound in North America, dating back 7,500 years. Archaeologists have discovered campsites of the Maritime Archaic people along the coast, as well as those of Pre-Inuit and later Indigenous groups.

Point Amour Provincial Historic Site has the tallest lighthouse in Atlantic Canada. It rises 109 feet to aid navigation through the sometimes-treacherous Strait of Belle Isle. An interpreter will guide you up to the top for a magnificent view – keep your eyes peeled for icebergs, seabirds, or breaching whales – while the lower-floor displays are both imaginative and informative. Back on solid ground, hike the coastal trail or picnic on the sandy beach.

Further along this route is Pinware Provincial Park, known for its beautiful stretch of sandy beach. This park is also home to the mighty Pinware River – another popular spot for anglers. Pinware also has the oldest known Indigenous site in the province.

Red Bay is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and tells the intriguing story of the 16th-century Basque whalers who built the first industrial complex in the New World, to render whale blubber into oil to light the lamps of Europe. The Basques left in the early 1600s and were forgotten until researcher Selma Barkham found their records in Spanish archives.

The interpretation centre contains the preserved remnants of a chalupa, the small boat used by whalers to chase down their quarry. During the excavation of the site, underwater archaeologists from Parks Canada found a wreck, believed to be the San Juan, which sank here with a full cargo of oil in 1565. On Saddle Island, a two-minute boat ride away, are graves of 130 men who perished here, and the red roof tiles that covered their dwellings.

In Mary’s Harbour, catch the ferry to Battle Harbour National Historic Site – a picturesque fishing port established in the 1750s, and the best-preserved fishing village in the province. It’s a trip into the past that is truly restorative, and begs a two-night stay to be truly appreciated. If it’s a clear evening, look for the incredible northern lights, visible in Labrador about 240 nights a year.

Next, consider a side trip to Port Hope Simpson and Cartwright. In Port Hope Simpson, relax in the town or arrange to fish on Shinney’s River with local guides for feisty sea-run brook trout or the king of the game fish, Atlantic salmon.

Upon arrival in Cartwright, meet the locals, explore the community, and check out Flagstaff Hill. Cartwright is on the doorstep of the recently established Akami-Uapishk’a-KakKasuak-Mealy Mountains National Park Reserve, the largest national park in eastern Canada. While there are currently no visitor offers in the park yet, Parks Canada has opened an office in Cartwright. Drop by, meet the team, and plan your potential future adventures.

The longest leg of this expedition is between Cartwright and Happy Valley-Goose Bay. Allow a half-day for the drive along this partly gravel road.

Happy Valley-Goose Bay is the main service town for central and northern Labrador, and the main departure point for bush flights inland. There are dozens of remote lodges where anglers and hunters can pursue their quarry, and most can only be reached by air (for more information on angling and hunting, call 800-563-6353 or visit AnglingNewfoundlandLabrador.com or HuntingNewfoundlandLabrador.com).

The town’s development has been closely tied to the military. During WWII, it was an important stop for fighters and bombers on the transatlantic delivery route to England. Take a drive and you’ll see vintage aircraft parked around the town. For a deeper dive, drop by the Labrador Military Museum, profiling the story of 5 Wing Goose Bay through a variety of photos, documents, and artifacts dating back to 1941.

Visit the office of Them Days Magazine, a publication that has been preserving and documenting Labrador’s history since 1975. There are several craft shops in town where you can purchase hand-knitted clothing or Indigenous arts and crafts – some are made with Labradorite, a semi-precious stone found only in Labrador.

Tours in the area will also lead you deeper into Labrador’s rugged terrain, where you’ll be able to engage with Indigenous cultures, go hiking, or take a boat tour on Lake Melville. In the winter months, try some guided ice fishing, snowmobiling, and dog-sledding.
Expedition 51°: West
Start: Labrador City
Length: About 534 km

Labrador City and Wabush were built in the 1950s near one of the world’s largest iron-ore deposits. It’s estimated that there is enough ore here to last more than a century. By car, you can also reach the area from Baie-Comeau, Québec on the St. Lawrence River via Route 389 – the Québec-Labrador Highway, also known as Expedition 51°.

In Labrador City, stop by The Gateway tourist information centre. The Edmund Montague Exhibit Hall traces 3,500 years of human activity in the area.

Sport fishing in Labrador West – in fact, in all of Labrador – is some of the best in the world. You can also golf, hike, and ski, but the big winter activity is snowmobiling. Cain’s Quest, the world’s toughest and longest snowmobile endurance race, is held here every other year. This off-trail riding adventure sees teams of snowmobilers racing through deep snow and thick backcountry over 3,100 km in some of the most remote areas of Labrador.

The only town along this stretch of highway east to the Lake Melville area is Churchill Falls, site of one of the world’s largest underground hydroelectric generating stations. Here, the Churchill River drops more than 300 metres along a 32 km stretch, making it an ideal location for the power plant built in the 1960s.

These latitudes are excellent for viewing the northern lights. On clear nights the sky is alive with dancing colours and shifting shapes. There’s very little light pollution in Labrador, so sit back and enjoy the show. There is limited cellphone service on the Trans-Labrador Highway.

North Coast
Start: Happy Valley-Goose Bay
Length: Multi-day travel by ferry

Happy Valley-Goose Bay is the jumping-off point for the ferry service to Northern Labrador. Each community along the way offers plenty of opportunity to engage with Indigenous culture, whether it’s embarking on a guided experience, learning about arts and culture, or shopping for handmade products at local craft stores. The boat journey itself offers awe-inspiring views, as it passes the Mealy Mountains and its protected caribou herd to the south. This may have been the place the Vikings called Markland.

The first port is Rigolet, which has Indigenous ties dating back thousands of years. The town also has a long history of fur trapping that continues today. It is also well known for the production of traditional crafts made from a special grass that grows in the area. If you’re staying awhile, walk the Seashore Boardwalk – at over 8 km, it’s the longest in North America. You’ll pass the archaeological excavation of three Inuit winter sod houses before eventually finding yourself with a perfect vantage point over all of Rigolet.

After a short stop here, the boat heads east through Hamilton Inlet and turns north for the remote communities along the north coast. Most of these are now part of Nunatsiavut, the Labrador Inuit.
Road Trip Tips

If your trip includes a ferry jaunt, visit www.gov.nl.ca/ti/ferryservices/schedules for routes and rates. Some ferries do permit vehicles, with a set limit for vehicle capacity; other ferries are passengers only (no vehicles accepted) so plan accordingly.

Please check exact directions and road conditions before you start each road trip. Visit www.511nl.ca for current road conditions and ferry updates. Distances are estimates and for guidance only. Routes can be taken as is, or in reverse order.

territory. The ancestors of Northern Labrador’s Indigenous residents hunted and fished here for thousands of years before the Europeans arrived, moving with the seasons from camp to camp, following the caribou herds and living off the land and sea.

Makkovik was first settled by Indigenous peoples, and attracted a Moravian mission in 1750. Now you can visit the White Elephant Museum, showcasing community scenes throughout the decades. You can also walk the community boardwalks while keeping an eye on the coast for icebergs drifting past.

Postville was established as Kaipokok, a trading post, in 1843, but its Indigenous history reaches back thousands of years. It’s home to one of the largest known Groswater Pre-Inuit sites in Labrador, including the remains of several dwelling structures. European Settlers arrived in Hopedale in the late 1700s.

Natuashish, the province’s newest community, is home to the Innu, who moved here from a nearby island in 2002. The Inuit community of Nain is the most northerly inhabited community on the Labrador coast, near a rich nickel deposit and mine at Voisey’s Bay. Nain is also the headquarters for Torngat Mountains National Park. Here, the treeless tundra attracts naturalists and explorers alike. While in town, visit the Illusuak Cultural Centre, which brings Labrador Inuit history to life – you’ll have the opportunity to engage with culture through Inuktitut stories and songs, artwork, and natural landscape. Interactive displays allow you to understand the People’s connection to the land and sea, taking you on a journey through an Inuk lens.
A DREAM AT BATTLE HARBOUR

by Natalie Lucier
“The deep groaning sound and vibration shook my entire being and brought me to a place where time stood still and nothing else mattered. I was at one with the whale while it circled the cove again and again. In that very moment something inside of me changed forever.”

My First Whales

The first time I encountered whales up close was in Battle Harbour, Labrador in July of 2009. The whales were feeding very close to the cove. The humpback whales were lunge feeding on Capelin. They made groans deeper than any bass sound I have ever heard and it echoed through the cove from deep within their belly. One particular whale kept coming right up to the edge of the rocks where I knelt down close enough that I could have reached out and touched it if I wanted to. I was watching and listening to this whale as a large iceberg bobbed in the background. The moment was surreal; I had never seen anything as raw and as beautiful as this.

Capturing Memories

The salty sea air, the wind, the waves, the whales, and the icebergs captivated me for hours. While listening and watching, I remembered that I had a camera in my hands and I snapped a few photos. My friend who had joined me on the weekend excursion took my video camera and also filmed some video. I made a YouTube video with the photos and video captured from my encounter, which, days later, was featured on the CBC National News with Peter Mansbridge.

Like a Dream

The humpback whales who had enthralled me had also captivated the imagination and wonders of many other viewers who tuned into the news that night. It was like a dream come true. I would absolutely love to go back and visit the beautiful province of Newfoundland and Labrador.

Travellers are encouraged to check with individual airlines and ferry services for the most up-to-date information prior to and during travel.

By air

All areas of the province are accessible by air. Convenient flight times and schedules are available to help you make travel plans that meet your needs.

Western Newfoundland is serviced by Deer Lake Airport. From there, you can rent a vehicle or catch a connection to St. Anthony. In the central region, Gander is the best choice, and for the eastern and Avalon regions, fly into St. John’s. Labrador is serviced by airports in Happy Valley–Goose Bay and Wabush. Access to southeastern Labrador can be arranged through Blanc Sablon, just across the Québec border.

Provincial travel times by air
Airports on the island of Newfoundland are within one hour’s flying time from St. John’s. Airports in Labrador are just two hours away.

By sea
Marine Atlantic offers year-round crossings between North Sydney, Nova Scotia and Port aux Basques (T3), and seasonal crossings between North Sydney and Argentia (U19) every summer. For more information or to make a booking, visit marineatlantic.ca or call 1-800-341-7981 or 1-877-820-9252 (TTY).

A passenger and vehicle ferry operates between Saint-Pierre et Miquelon, and Fortune (V13), just 20 kilometres away. A passenger and freight vessel sails along the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence from Natashquan at the end of Québec, Route 138 to Blanc Sablon (KK12). From there you can either drive along Route 510 in southern Labrador, or take the Strait of Belle Isle ferry to St. Barbe (C10, KK13) on Newfoundland’s west coast, which is 80 minutes away. See page 421 for more information.

Cruising is also a popular way to discover Newfoundland and Labrador. For information on cruise lines and ports of call, please visit www.cruisetheedge.com

By road
Take Québec Route 389 north from Baie-Comeau to the Labrador border where it meets Route 500. This paved road crosses western and central Labrador to Happy Valley-Goose Bay (HH9). Route 510 goes south from here to Cartwright Junction (HH12), and all the way to L’Anse-au-Clair (KK12), just five kilometres from the ferry between Blanc Sablon, Québec, and St. Barbe (KK13)/(C10) on Newfoundland’s northwest coast.

Getting around

By road
All the main highways on the island of Newfoundland are paved. There are only a few short gravel side roads, and these are well-maintained. In Labrador, Route 510 is paved from L’Anse-au-Clair to Happy Valley-Goose Bay. Route 500 between Happy Valley-Goose Bay (HH9) and Labrador City and Wabush (JJ3) is paved, and connects with Québec Route 389. See the quick reference Distance Chart on page 425 for distances between major population centres. See page 426 for information on winter travel. The Traveller’s Map, which is updated annually, has more extensive details.

By intra-provincial ferry and coastal boat
Communities on islands along the coast are connected by automobile or passenger ferry routes. Remote communities on Newfoundland’s south coast and on the coast of Labrador are connected by coastal boats that carry passengers and freight, but not cars. A seasonal ferry connects St. Barbe (C10, KK13) on Newfoundland’s Viking Trail with Blanc Sablon (B9, KK12) on the Québec-Labrador border where travellers can take Route 510 north to Happy Valley-Goose Bay and then Route 500 to Québec, Route 389.

511 Traveller Information System
NL 511 is a smartphone app, website, and phone number with information on winter driving conditions, construction updates, highway cameras, major incidents, current ferry status updates, and weather information.

Users will be able to access these services by downloading the smartphone app (Apple and Android), visiting nl511.ca, or dialing 511 to get key non-visual travel-related information over the phone.

Traffic regulations
Drivers must carry a valid driver’s licence, vehicle registration certificate, and proof of liability insurance coverage. Legislation requires that motorists carry lump-sum public liability and property damage insurance of $200,000. In case of an accident involving personal injury, proof of such insurance must be produced within 24 hours or driving privileges could be suspended. The driver and all passengers must wear seat belts. A child weighing less than nine kilograms must be secured in either an infant carrier or a convertible car seat adjusted to the rear-facing position. The driver is responsible for ensuring all passengers under the age of 16 are properly restrained by seat belts. Radar detectors are illegal. The legal standards for impaired driving are .05 milligrams alcohol per litre of blood, or 2 nanograms THC per millilitre of blood. The use of cellphones and other electronic communication devices while driving is illegal. Please use a hands-free attachment when driving.

From the ferry at Port aux Basques to St. John’s, with stops at major towns on Route 1.
The following charts show distances between destinations in kilometres as well as approximate driving times under normal conditions. These destinations are listed in alphabetical order. To convert to miles, multiply by 0.62.

In the example to the right, there are 502 kilometres between Clarenville and Corner Brook. It may take up to 5 hours and 13 minutes to drive there.
Book car rentals and accommodations in advance
It’s always a good idea to make reservations before you travel. You can travel when you want, stay on budget, and avoid lineups during the busy summer season. This is especially true for car rentals and accommodations.

Newfoundland and Labrador is becoming a more popular destination, and there is greater demand for these tourist services. By booking your rental car and at least your first and last night’s stay—in addition to your air or ferry arrangements—you can have a worry-free holiday with the flexibility to go where you want, and do what you want.

Time zones
The island of Newfoundland occupies its own time zone. It is half an hour later than Atlantic Standard Time and a full hour and a half later than Eastern Standard Time. Most of Labrador occupies the Atlantic Time Zone, except L’Anse-au-Clair to Black Tickle, which is on Newfoundland Standard Time.

Weather
The island of Newfoundland has a temperate marine climate. Winters are usually mild with an average temperature of zero degrees Celsius. Summer days range from cool to hot with an average temperature of 16 degrees Celsius. Good swimming weather begins at the end of June. The normal annual rainfall is 1,050 mm and the normal snowfall is 300 cm. Labrador winters are much colder than those on the island. While summers are shorter and generally cooler, extremely high temperatures are not uncommon in Labrador.

Winter travel
During the winter, all primary highways are kept open except during or immediately after a severe snowstorm. For information on road conditions, contact the Department of Transportation and Infrastructure regional offices:

Western Region .................... 709-635-4144
Central Region ...................... 709-292-4444
Eastern Region ...................... 709-466-4122
Avalon Region ....................... 709-729-7669
Labrador Region ..................... 709-896-7888
Terra Nova National Park .......... 709-533-2801
gov.nl.ca/ti/roads/home also notes highway construction and slowdowns.

Watch out for moose
There are about 110,000 moose on the island of Newfoundland, and most highways go through good moose habitat. If you see a moose, slow down immediately and prepare to stop. Like all wild animals, moose are unpredictable. Be sure the moose has gone back into the forest before resuming your drive. If you see a vehicle stopped on or near the highway, the driver may have spotted a moose, so be cautious. Avoid driving at night if possible as most moose/vehicle accidents occur between dusk and dawn. If you must drive at night, slow down, scan both sides of the highway with your lights on high beam unless overtaking other traffic, and pay attention to warning signs. A road sign like “Caution, moose next 11 km” means moose cross there frequently.
Pets and animals
You can bring your cat or dog to Newfoundland and Labrador without a permit, and they can be moved freely between Newfoundland and Labrador. However, the importation of non-indigenous animals and the movement of Labrador Huskies from Labrador to Newfoundland is restricted. If you have questions about bringing animals to the province, visit the Office of the Chief Veterinary Officer at gov.nl.ca/ffa/department/contact-ahd or call 709-729-6879.

There are no skunks, poison ivy, or poison oak in the province, and the only snake is the non-venomous Eastern Garter Snake found in Labrador and in a small section of Newfoundland near St. David’s.

Firearms
Firearms are strictly controlled in Canada, and fully automatic weapons are banned. Visitors may bring firearms only for a legitimate purpose, such as hunting or a target shooting competition. For more information, visit rcmp-grc.gc.ca/en/firearms or call the Canadian Firearms Program at 800-731-4000 (Canada and the U.S), or 506-624-6626 from other countries.

Cannabis
The medical and recreational use of cannabis is legal in Newfoundland and Labrador. If you use cannabis, know the health effects, and please do so responsibly. For more information, visit www.gov.nl.ca/cannabis

To buy, possess, or use cannabis you must be 19 or older. There are strict penalties for selling and providing cannabis to those under the legal age. Please check with the owner or manager of your accommodation or campground to find out if cannabis use is permitted in their establishment.

Cannabis is prohibited in motor vehicles, boats, and public spaces. Cannabis can impair your ability to operate vehicles or equipment safely, and driving while impaired is a serious criminal offence.

Soil and plants
Help protect Canada’s environment and agriculture by preventing the spread of soil-borne diseases. Before leaving Newfoundland and Labrador, make sure you are not travelling with items that may contain soil and are subject to confiscation. Special permits for travelling with restricted items may be obtained from the Canadian Food Inspection Agency. For more information, visit inspection.gc.ca/soil or call 709-772-4424.
Please remember that it is illegal to take cannabis across the Canadian border, regardless of destination.

Accessibility
Establishments listed as wheelchair accessible meet the minimum requirements set out in the provincial Buildings Accessibility Act and Regulations. These establishments have a main entrance, and where provided, public washrooms are equipped so that individuals in a wheelchair can access them unassisted. Hotels, motels, and B&Bs with the accessibility designation ($) have a wheelchair accessible room or suite, but there are no guarantees that all of the establishment’s attractions can be accessed by wheelchair users. Some accommodations have a limited number of wheelchair accessible rooms, so reservations should be made. Many establishments not listed as accessible may provide acceptable facilities, depending on individual needs.

Accommodation tax
Some communities in the province levy a tax on roofed accommodations. In St. John’s, for instance, this levy is 4% on rooms that cost more than $20 per night. The amount of the levy varies and the revenue raised is used to promote the town or region. The tax is added to the bill (before HST). At the time of booking, ask if your accommodator charges the tax.

Deposits, credit cards, refunds
When you make a reservation, it’s always a good idea to ask the operator about the cancellation of reservations, what credit cards are accepted, and the establishment’s policies on deposit refunds and late arrivals. Some seasonal operators may have a minimum-stay policy in effect. Some operators do not accept credit cards.

Provincial public holidays
Most stores and offices are legally required to close on the following 2023 holidays:

- New Year’s Day – Monday, January 2 (observed)
- Good Friday – Friday, April 7
- Easter Sunday – Sunday, April 9
- Victoria Day – Monday, May 22
- Canada Day – Monday, July 3 (observed)
- Labour Day – Monday, September 4
- National Day for Truth and Reconciliation – Saturday, September 30
- Thanksgiving Day – Monday, October 9
- Remembrance Day – Monday, November 13 (observed)
- Christmas Day – Monday, December 25
- Boxing Day – Tuesday, December 26

Other traditional holidays include:
- St. Patrick’s Day – Friday, March 17
- St. George’s Day – Monday, April 24 (observed)
- June Holiday – Wednesday, June 21
- Orangemen’s Day – Monday, July 10 (observed)

On these four holidays, stores are not required to close, but many offices do. The holiday is usually celebrated on the closest Monday to the actual date.

Entering Canada

Passports
At present, American citizens and permanent residents of the United States do not need a passport to visit Canada, but should carry a birth, baptismal, or voter’s certificate, or other documentation establishing their citizenship. Naturalized U.S. citizens should carry evidence of citizenship, such as a naturalization certificate. Re-entry to the U.S. by land or sea requires a passport, passport card, or a trusted traveller card such as a Nexus card, and re-entry by air requires a passport. Visitors from other countries must have valid national passports and visitors from certain countries also require a visa. For a list of visa-exempt countries, go to canadainternational.gc.ca

Customs regulations
You can bring sporting equipment (fishing tackle, cameras, outboard motors, camping equipment, portable boats, hunting rifles, etc.) into Canada by declaring these items to Customs at your point of entry. Carrying a duplicate list that includes descriptions and serial numbers of each item is the quickest way to clear Customs on your return. The Government of Canada maintains a website with links to government services, information, and resources for people planning a visit to our country, including downloadable forms, frequently asked questions, and a currency converter to help you plan your trip. Visit canadainternational.gc.ca

Currency
The Canadian dollar is the currency used in Newfoundland and Labrador, and we strongly advise you to convert your national currency into Canadian dollars before leaving home. Some retailers will accept U.S. dollars, but probably not at the official exchange rate, and they will not accept any other foreign currency. If you bring foreign currency into Canada, please contact any chartered bank for current exchange rates. There is no currency exchange house/kiosk in Newfoundland and Labrador.

Medical services
All visitors to Canada are strongly urged to obtain health insurance before leaving their home country. Canadian hospital and medical services are excellent, but a hospital stay can cost in excess of $500 a day, and an extended stay can be cost-prohibitive. Be sure you are covered. If you are taking medicine prescribed by your doctor, it’s a good idea to bring along a copy of your prescription in case you need to have it renewed by a doctor in Canada.

Visiting Saint-Pierre et Miquelon
Saint-Pierre et Miquelon is a part of France, only 20 kilometres from Fortune, Newfoundland and Labrador. For information on travel and customs regulations, visit their website at www.spm-tourisme.fr

There is ferry service from Fortune to Saint-Pierre et Miquelon (see page 227), and an airline services Saint-Pierre (page 419). If you wish to visit Saint-Pierre et Miquelon, you have to clear Canadian Customs in Fortune upon your return.

Please note: Insurance law varies from country to country, and as a result your policy may not cover you on European soil. Be sure to confirm coverage with your insurer prior to travel.

Book now, sleep easy.

The last thing you want to worry about while finding yourself off the beaten path is where you’re going to sleep. To avoid disappointment on your trip, make your reservations in advance. The range of accommodations is as varied as the scenery you’ll find across the province, so book before you arrive, and sleep easy while you’re here.
Reserve your ride early.

There’s a lot to see in this beautiful, big province, and if you’re planning on taking a few road trips to see it all, be sure to book your car rental in advance. That way, you can concentrate on the things that matter when you arrive, like the breathtaking scenery and the fresh coastal air.

The Story Exchange is a canvas for all your Newfoundland and Labrador travel stories. A place to recount your most memorable adventures, showcase your photos, and share some words of wisdom with future travellers to the province. All in the form of a shareable digital book.

A STORY WORTH TELLING, IS A STORY WORTH SHARING.
Even if your short story turns into a tall tale, family and friends will want to follow along. It may even encourage them to set off on their very own off-the-beaten-path adventures.

UPLOAD A PICTURE. IT’LL LAST LONGER.
On each page of your story, you can upload up to 6 pictures. If a picture is worth a thousand words, then that’s a whole lot of storytelling.

ADD ‘STORYTELLER’ TO YOUR LIST OF ACHIEVEMENTS.
Become an official storyteller in a few clicks by authoring a digital book at StoryExchange.com
